Kidnap Spree Goes On

Their 19th Victim Found Locked Last Night In Car Trunk; Boys Tell of Raids

SPARTA, Tenn. (AP) — A trio of wild highway kidnapers left their 19th victim locked in the trunk of a stolen car in a remote gulch of the Cumberland plateau last night and took a 20th with them in a stolen truck.

The patrol said Lee Johnson was rescued after spending about five hours in the trunk of the car, which was itself hidden under hay in an abandoned barn at the site of an ancient grain mill.

Two foxhunters passing near the barn late last night heard Johnson's efforts to free himself. Johnson and his unidentified rescuers then walked most of the night until he reached a garage at Spencer, 20 miles south of here and called the patrol.

Johnson, a resident of White County, Tenn., said he and Herschel Meyers, a neighbor, were returning to their truck after hunting squirrels when they were waylaid by the bandits.

The kidnapers then pushed the car into the barn, told Johnson to get in the trunk and told him they probably would release Meyers today.

The trio of bandits already had kidnapped at least 18 persons in two days along highways from Florida to Tennessee, but no further victims had been reported kidnapped since Wednesday.

Officers finished piecing together the main events of the crime spree last night when three Nashville boys told FBI agents they brought the bandits from Miami to Jasper, Tenn., in their own car.

Forced Boys to Aid
The boys said they were forced to take part in kidnapping, robbing and tying up four persons near Valdosta, Ga., but state patrol officials said no charges would be filed against them. Their names were added to the list of victims.

Rogers Smith, 17, Lamont Vaden, 18, and William Burrow, 18, said they had gone to Florida with a fourth Nashville boy. On their return trip, they willingly brought along two men who later "turned out to be tough guys."

The appearance of the three boys cleared up the mystery of the fourth "bandit" and two "captives" reported by other victims to have split off from the main gang.

Threaten Captives
The boys said they were allowed to drive on to Nashville after the bandits kidnapped six persons and stole a car for themselves near Chattanooga. The fourth Nashville boy, they said, apparently joined the bandits on his own volition.

But the bandit leader, whom they called "Jimmy, the wild man," told them he would follow them and kill them if they told police. They pondered the threat 24 hours before going to the FBI.

Officers have been alerted from Massachusetts to Florida and from South Carolina to Indiana.

Truman Has Lull Before He Storms Out Again Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman sat on the sidelines of the presidential campaign today, but it was only a lull before he storms out again Sunday.

Truman returned from his latest swing in behalf of Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson last night to make a rear platform talk at Washington's Union Station. Amid cheers from the crowd, estimated by police inspector R. C. Pierce at 2,000, Truman took a crack at the nation's newspapers.

"They're against us a hundred per cent and they're trying to make everything we do appear wrong," he said. "I'm not licked yet and I'm not through till the fourth day of November."

Wildly Fleeing Suspect Caught

WHITEHALL, Mich. (AP) — A wildly fleeing holdup suspect, heavily armed and reportedly "extremely dangerous," was captured by state police today after his stolen car caught fire.

The fugitive, Joseph P. (Limpy) Mahtan, 22, polio-crippled Illinois prison parolee, surrendered without a struggle.

Beforehand, however, Mahtan handcuffed two investigating officers to their police car, reportedly broke into two stores to get ammunition for his stolen guns, and broke through a police road block at 100 miles an hour.

Bad Polio Year, But Not Worst In Mizzou

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — This is a bad polio year in Missouri but it looks now as if the 1949 record of 1,319 cases probably will not be surpassed.

Dr. James Amos, head of the State Health Division, said today it's just a guess at best, but the present outlook is that the 1949 record will stand.

Through last week, 989 polio (infantile paralysis) cases had been reported in Missouri. At the same time last year the total was 577. Sixty-five new cases were listed last week against 40 in the same week a year ago.

Start, But Only A Start, Made For Chest Fund

A start has been made in raising the $29,000 quota of the Pettis County Community Chest. But it is only a start.

Up to noon Friday the total gifts reported at the Chest office was $9,214.59.

It will take much more giving on the part of the public to insure the success of the several agencies participating in the Chest fund. Some may have made donations which have not been reported, but many have not yet added to the fund.

Cost of Living Shows a Drop; 2 of 1 Percent

It's First Decline In Six Months Says Statistical Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today reported a drop in the cost of living for the first time in six months.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics announced that its index — the measuring rod for the government — declined two-tenths of one per cent between Aug. 15 and Sept. 15.

There had been a steady climb for the previous six months. The BLS attributed the drop to lower prices for food, down one per cent in the month.

The decline in food prices was offset in part by increases for all other major groups of living cost items. The price of clothing went up six-tenths of one per cent.

BLS pegged the new index at 100.8 per cent of the 1935-1939 base period, down from the August record high of 101.1.

Today's index measures the retail price of food, shelter, clothing, medical care and scores of other goods and services bought by moderate income urban families on Sept. 15. It takes BLS a month to gather price data and compute the index.

The latest report showed that living costs have advanced 12.1 per cent since Korea and 5 per cent since January, 1951.

The old series index was 191.4 per cent of the base period. BLS publishes two indexes each month. The new series, or official figure, takes into account new spending habits of the American people.

The drop in the cost of living between Aug. 15-Sept. 15, as measured by the old index, was one-half of one per cent.

BLS expresses the amount of change in percentage. The new index went down three-tenths of one point which BLS figured was two-tenths of one per cent. The point change and the percentage change are never the same except when movement of the index is from an even 100.

Even with the slight fall in food prices, the new index showed that food cost 233.2 per cent more on Sept. 15 than in the 1935-1939 base period, or 14.8 per cent above the pre-Korea, June, 1950, level.

Army Asks Record 200 Millions to Buy 4,000 Helicopters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industry and Pentagon sources said today the Army has asked for a record-breaking 200 million dollars for the purchase of some 4,000 helicopters during the 1953-1954 fiscal year.

Budget estimates have not yet been released, but it was learned that the Army wants 20 million dollars for development work on helicopters and 180 million for production. Previously helicopter work had been budgeted at no more than 20 millions.

Finland's Cabinet Crisis Is Settled

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Finland's cabinet crisis has been settled and Premier Urho Kekkonen resumed government leadership today.

The cabinet quit a week ago in a dispute between agrarians and socialists over economic issues.

Santa Claus Coming Dec. 5 In Annual Christmas Parade

The annual Christmas parade will be held in Sedalia on Friday, Dec. 5, starting at 2 p.m. That was what the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce decided at a meeting held Thursday night at a Santa Claus has already been contacted at the North Pole. The old fellow was scheduled down on his calendar and said he was glad he was called early because he had so much activity in December he didn't want any conflicting dates.

He was glad, too, that there is to be a Merry Christmas Queen. She will be chosen from the candidates of lovely girls offered by all surrounding communities. Each high school will choose its prettiest girl and will send in her picture with a description of the color of her eyes and hair, height, weight and age. A committee will then select the queen and two attendants from the pictures.

Chairman of the parade is Don Richardson, with Jim Durely as co-chairman, and they announce that there will be four classes of floats in the parade: 4-H, civic,

Chinese Push US Off Peak

Americans Nearly Made Hill Top Before Being Set Back By Assault

SEOUL, Saturday (AP) — Chinese troops today drove U. S. troops from their foothold on Pike's Peak and launched a determined assault on nearby Sniper Ridge in Central Korea.

U. S. troops stormed to within 35 yards of the crest of Pike's Peak, the only height the Reds still held on Triangle Hill, before they were turned back by furious mortar, artillery and small arms fire.

Then, early today, from 300 to 350 Chinese Reds struck behind heavy artillery and mortar fire at South Koreans atop Pinpoint Hill, the highest position on Sniper Ridge.

AP Correspondent John Randolph reported from the front that the Reds had steadily built up their attack on Pinpoint but so far were unable to penetrate the Korean lines.

ROKs Give Up Attempt
The South Koreans yesterday had given up trying to clear Chinese from a maze of underground passageways on the northern tip of Sniper Ridge.

Lt. Gen. Chun Il Kwon, commander of the ROK Second Division, said, "Those Chinamen never stop digging. We have to dig the dirt out ourselves like hunting rats."

U. S. observers said the bitter resistance probably came from a fresh Chinese regiment which took shell-pocked position from a cut up unit.

The South Koreans withdrew at dark with the Chinese still holding out.

Twenty miles to the west, South Koreans and Chinese hugged opposite slopes of Iron Horse Mountain while thunderous artillery barrages from both sides churned the crest into a deadly no-man's-land.

Then the Chinese swarmed over the top and pushed the ROKs further down the southern slope.

Fighting broke out at other scattered points across two-thirds of the 155-mile battlefield.

On Sniper, South Korean Second Division infantrymen went after the holed-up Reds with grenades, bayonets and small bundles of explosives. The Chinese fought back from a network of caves and tunnels in a desperate gamble to retain their last hold on Sniper's northern tip.

Artillery, mortar and rifle fire on Iron Horse Mountain was intense. An Allied officer said it was certain death to raise your head.

In a pre-dawn battle on the Western Front, Allied infantrymen knocked Chinese Communists off an outpost near Little Gibraltar. The U. N. soldiers withdrew from the position yesterday and Reds swarmed to the top. At 3 a.m. the Allies swept back up the slope and captured the crest in a 45-minute action.

American and Ethiopian troops of the U. S. Seventh Division chopped to bits a force of 500 Reds who attacked Triangle Hill last night and this morning. Front line reports said they killed 140 Reds and wounded 320. Triangle is just west of Sniper Ridge.

The Eastern Front, where North Koreans do all the fighting for the Reds, was relatively quiet. Only a few minor patrol actions were reported.

Planes Support Infantry
U. S. Fifth Air Force said its warplanes supported the ground troops all along the front. Pilots claimed 15 Red gun positions destroyed and 52 bunkers were damaged.

Ten B29 Superforts rode through 140-mile-an-hour winds last night and dropped 100 tons of bombs on a cement plant in northeast Korea. Pilots reported the plant destroyed.

Official Eighth Army figures today reflected the savage intensity of recent fighting on the Central Front. The Army said its soldiers killed 5,996 Reds and wounded 3,321 in the week ended Oct. 21. During the same period it reported only 65 prisoners taken. That is a ratio of nearly 100 Reds killed for every one captured.

The original canvass of the Hughesville area was conducted in September of last year. Installation of the overhead lines was begun about two months ago, according to schedule.

Acheson Declares UN Has Achievements In Most Difficult Era

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson declared today that faith in the United Nations has been "reinforced by a record of achievement through seven of the most difficult and dangerous years in the history of the modern world."

The State Department released a statement by Acheson—who is at the U. N. General Assembly meeting in New York—on the seventh anniversary of the establishment of the U. N.

Acheson said this is a day on which the peoples of the United Nations express their "continuing faith" in the principles of peace.

The election on a County Health Unit in Pettis County will not be held at the time of the general election Nov. 4, as has been announced. A vote on the proposal is being considered for a later date.

Ceremony Today Marks Start of Stretching Cable for New Phone Line to Hughesville

Sedalians Join Hughesville Official In Marking Event

The addition of the Hughesville telephone subscribers to the Sedalia exchange was officially opened Friday morning with cable-stringing ceremony on the rural road between Georgetown and Hughesville.

Participating in the ceremony today were Mayor Herb Studer, Das McClure, president of the Cooperative Association of Hughesville; Jack Cunningham, president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce; Z. Lyle Brown, district manager for Southwestern Bell; Jack Shumaker, manager of the Sedalia office of Southwestern Bell and Paul Houston, foreman of the installing crew.

After the ceremony, the group paid a visit to the office of the Hughesville telephone switchboard to pay respects to Mrs. Ray Tegtmeyer, operator there since 1941. Also present was Mrs. C. S. Culp, who has been assisting Mrs. Tegtmeyer since school began.

Will Replace Toll Line
The present Hughesville telephone system, owned by the cooperative association, has been in existence since 1901. The new connection will be completed by the end of this year and will replace the old toll line between Hughesville and Sedalia.

"Everyone in Hughesville is eagerly awaiting the change," said McClure as he shook hands with Mayor Studer at the ceremony. Later, during the visit to the switchboard office, he said, "Mrs. Tegtmeyer has given unselfish service and we are indebted to her."

"I'm happy to have the services of Sedalia made available to Hughesville and its people," replied Mayor Studer, "and to have the friendship of Hughesville made more accessible to the people of Sedalia."

Cable Just Arrived
The installation of the cable began Friday morning as soon as the cable arrived from a warehouse in Chicago. It is a new lightweight type of cable sheathed in aluminum and with an outer casing of a compound reputed to be more resistant to wear than the old lead-type casing. About 100 yards of cable had been strung already before the ceremony began. It is holed-up to a steel support cable, which has already been strung completely through the Hughesville community area.

Members of the installation crew are: C. H. McNulty, Ellis Moore Jr., John M. McFarland, R. V. Sedalia, and B. C. Salmon, all of Sedalia.

Will Be Ready By Jan. 1
The installation of new telephone lines through the Hughesville area, to connect subscribers there with the Sedalia exchange, will be completed by the end of this year, according to Jack Shumaker, manager of the local office of Southwestern Bell.

Approximate cost of the installation will be $35,000, he said. When the job is done, the Hughesville subscribers will have modern battery, lift-the-receiver service. They will no longer have to crank a handle to reach the operator.

Add 95 Customers
About 95 new customers will be added to the Sedalia exchange, both residents and business owners. They will be provided with an eight-party system with semi-selective ringing. This means that any one customer will hear the rings of only four parties on an eight-party line.

An added advantage to the Hughesville subscribers will be the removal of toll charges between that area and Sedalia.

The addition of the Hughesville area to the Sedalia exchange will bring the total number of rural telephones in the exchange to about 1,000. Shumaker said that Southwestern Bell has been trying to increase rural service since the end of the war and that about 600 new subscribers have been added to the Sedalia exchange in the last ten years. He emphasized the fact that they receive exactly the same type service as the city subscribers.

The original canvass of the Hughesville area was conducted in September of last year. Installation of the overhead lines was begun about two months ago, according to schedule.

Often Its Been a Family Affair—Operators of Hughesville Switchboard Have Given Faithful Service Throughout 42 Years

When the last telephone call is put through the Hughesville switchboard and the town's telephone subscribers are connected with the Sedalia exchange by this year is up, it will bring to a close 42 years of steady, faithful service by those who have tended that board since its beginning in 1910.

It's not really the same switchboard. As far as anyone can remember, there were two of them — the first one, a Stromberg-Carlson, set up in 1910, and the second one, a Kellogg, which replaced it several years later.

But the number of people who have operated the board have been few, and they take pride in the memory of their service.

The first Hughesville operator was Mrs. Pinken Bruce. The switchboard was set up in her home in 1910, and she ran it for four years. That was back in the days when the Hughesville people mutually owned a trunk line that ran from Sedalia to Hughesville and east to Longwood. There were three lines between Hughesville and Sedalia.

When Mrs. Bruce relinquished her job, H. T. Scott had the switchboard moved to his house and ran it for the next two years. Later W. T. Owen operated it for a few months, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Grimes succeeded him for about the same length of time, with the board being moved to their respective homes at each change of supervision.

The next switchboard operator stayed on the job for 25 years, and she's still in the telephone business. Mrs. W. H. Winters and her husband were staying at a farm east of Hughesville in 1916 when their neighbors asked them to take over operation of the board. The telephone company's five directors elected them to the job at the next meeting.

Until then, the switchboard had always been installed in the home of the operator, but now the town voted to buy a three-room house just for the switchboard, and that building has remained the switchboard office to this day.

The switchboard dominated the lives of the Winters. Even their two daughters, Ruby and Eva Nell, learned to operate it, and other village girls learned with them. The Winters often boarded girls who helped them with the job.

The company then had its all-time peak of 208 subscribers, each of whom owned his own telephone and line. Many of the lines were allowed to disintegrate as time passed, and some lines were connected with the Sedalia exchange, so that now there are 37 Hughesville subscribers.

Mrs. Winters still recalls the difficulties she sometimes encountered in putting through calls. (Please turn to Page 4, Column 6)

Former 'Soda Jerk' Recalls Really Painting Sedalia Red

White letters from one to six feet high screamed at motorists and pedestrians alike from streets and sidewalks Friday advertising the feud game between Smith-Cotton and Jefferson City — but among some of the old timers it brought a chuckle — a chuckle about something that happened in Sedalia 30 years ago.

In a drug store was a soda jerk who had a helper who worked during school vacation and the helper, being very young, had big ideas. He had the idea of capitalizing on his profession, the profession of being a soda jerk helper.

So, he mixed a cherry drink that he named "Claro," competitive with two other drinks on the Sedalia market, and he thought it was pretty good. When he got off his shift that night about 10 o'clock he took a bucket of red barn paint and brush and, with the aid of the drug store porter, literally painted the town red. He put "Claro" all over town — great big letters "Drink Claro—3c—at Dunkin's Drug Store," and he kept on painting until 4 o'clock in the morning.

About 9 o'clock the next morning police were at the drug store investigating the painting. The proprietor, who knew nothing about it, was taken to police court, but the tired youngster was home in bed asleep. A fine of $50 was imposed on a stay, provided the paint was removed immediately.

This afternoon a big homecoming parade was held in the business district with many floats entered by the students. It was one of the gayest, noisiest and most beautiful in homecoming history. (Please turn to Page 4, Column 5)

Meet Jays In Game Tonight—S-C Homecoming Starts When Youth 'Paint Town Red' With White Paint Thursday Night

Homecoming started Friday night and continued into the wee hours of today for Smith-Cotton High School students. Tonight the final touches will be put on when the Tigers clash with the Jefferson City High School Jays on the Liberty Park gridiron.

There is no doubt that several hundred sleepy-eyed Sedalians wondered what was happening on their street corner with anywhere from six to 6 kids yelling, cheering and singing. This morning they awakened "again" to find the street intersections painted with inspiring signs, which the students hope will inspire the Tigers to beat the Jays.

Festivities began at 7 p. m. Thursday at Ninth and Massachusetts with the usual night before game dance. From there it reached out through the business district of the city. It was estimated that nearly two-thirds of the Smith-Cotton student body participated.

The rally itself was one of the largest held here in many years and there is no doubt it had the largest attendance, not only of high school students, but a large number of the school alumni.

Bonfire Burns Early
It was a "dirty trick," but before the downtown activities began someone sneaked in and started the bonfire on the back part of the school yard. The fire was believed to have been started by some "curious" Jefferson City High School Jays. That is the accusation of the Tigers anyway, but it didn't stop the pep rally and everything continued, in spite of the dwindling fire.

Evidently the "paint crew" took on a nap during the afternoon either after school or during school classes, as students began to gathering again after traffic had eased down. "Painters" were busy at work all night long, in fact up to nearly 6 a. m., and the signs on the streets show for their efforts.

The baseball stadium at Liberty park got its usual "homecoming dab" the roof being "repainted" appropriately for tonight's game.

Two Bands—Two Queens
Something new has been added to the homecoming program at the football game. The Smith-Cotton High School band alumni will make its first appearance. Some 20-odd former members of the Tiger band who are now Sedalia business men, doctors, and even several college students who came home today will have their own special section beside the school band. They will play with the band and also give a concert all their own under the direction of Miss Jerry Tufel.

There will be two homecoming queen crownings. Besides the annual crowning of the queen there will be an "old fashioned" crowning. For the latter the alumni band will play while one of the former school students will be crowned. The "Old Fashioned" queen will wear a dress of several years back.

The night will end with the homecoming dance to be held at Smith-Cotton Cafeteria — win or lose.

Hurricane Bearing On Miami

Winds Up to 115 Miles Per Hour Hit Cuban Coast, Veer to Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The violent winds of the Caribbean hurricane battered the south Cuban coast today as the storm began to cross the island on a course that would take it close to Miami.

The center of the storm with winds of 115 miles an hour or more hammered hardest in the area of Cienfuegos, a south Cuban coast port 100 miles east of the capital, Havana.

Its north-northwestward course pointed it across Cuba toward the Florida straits where it was expected to emerge late today or early tonight.

Storm Warnings Hoisted
Storm warnings were hoisted along the southeast Florida coast from Vero Beach to Key West.

"The present course will place this area in the western edge of the storm," said Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster in the Miami weather bureau.

"But it will be a close shave, and it will wear a lot of watching. Preliminary preparations should be made for the possibility of strong winds."

Naval ships at Key West, Fla., put to sea to ride out any heavy weather there, and airplanes from military bases in Key West and Miami were flown out of the hurricane area.

Blimps from Boca Chica Naval Air Station near Key West—President Truman's landing place on his vacation trips from Washington—were flown to Glencoe, Ga., for safety.

Rain Floods Streets
A tropical downpour flooded streets in Miami at the time storm warnings were ordered up.

Heavy rains were reported over much of Cuba, by Navy hurricane hunters who yesterday said it washed paint off the leading edges of their wings when they flew into it.

Florida worried about the possibility of floods should the heavy rains sweep the Everglades farming area around Lake Okechobee.

The Everglades were reported to be "saturated but not flooded" in advance of the storm. Rainfall in the torrents that accompany a hurricane would flood the land. Heavy pumping is keeping it clear of water in some areas at present.

The Cuban capital, Havana, made frantic preparations for the blow yesterday but a slight shift in course took it east of the city of 1,000,000 population.

Torrential rains flooded Havana's streets.

Philippine Toll To 443 In Storm

MANILA (AP) — The storm-lashed Philippines counted at least 443 dead today and listed 209 more as missing in Tuesday's and Wednesday's typhoon.

The casualty toll may soar higher yet when isolated villages report their losses. Communications throughout the devastated area are lost in the debris of broken telephone poles, tangled wires and smashed radio stations.

The wild winds sowed their greatest destruction in southern Luzon. Albay province, a once-thriving port of 80,000, was a virtual ruin. Tacloban, a city of 33,000, only 20 miles to the north, reported 118 dead. That is the highest single-city toll ever reported in the Philippines stormy history.

Crop damage ran to untold millions of dollars. Sprawling plantations are under water. Banana and coconut trees toppled to the ground before the roaring winds.

The National Red Cross rushed relief supplies to the stricken provinces.

Food and medical supplies were sent south in planes and ships. The presidential palace was deluged with calls for aid.

Lack of water in many communities created a serious health threat. Health officials feared epidemics might break out.

Fear for Change

As much as we all want some rain, there are lots of us who are scared to let the moisture fall—just like we had anything to do with whether it will or won't. Once it comes, it is a fairly certain bet cold, winter weather will follow. Remember the six inches of snow last Halloween?

Fair and mild tonight and Saturday, High Saturday near 80. Low tonight in the forties.

Temperature: 7 a. m. 44 degrees; 2 p. m. 77 degrees.

Sedalians Go To Methodist Conference

Four Methodist ministers from Sedalia will attend a stewardship training conference in Columbia, Oct. 28-29. They are: the Rev. Lee F. Soxman, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist Church; the Rev. Emerson R. Hurd, of the Epworth Methodist Church; the Rev. Roy L. Bowers, of the First Methodist Church; and the Rev. E. W. Bartley, district superintendent.

Mr. Soxman and Mr. Bartley will also attend the preliminary conference on finance Monday, Oct. 27. Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, St. Louis, head of the 700 Methodist churches in the Missouri area, issued the call for the conference. Dr. E. Lamont Geissinger, head of the Stewardship department of the General Board of Lay Activities, will preside.

Leaders who attend the conference will assume responsibility for conducting follow-up meetings in sub-districts throughout the state. Prominent speakers, in addition to Bishop Holt and Dr. Geissinger, will be Robert G. Mayfield, Chicago (formerly of Lebanon, Mo.), executive secretary of the General Board of Lay Activities; the Rev. Dr. John Q. Schisler, Nashville, Tenn., head of the General Board of Education's division of the local church and the Rev. Richard Belcher, Nashville, head of the denomination's Interboard Committee on Christian Vocations.

What Others Say

The Rev. C. H. Martin, 706 East Sixth—I am happy to offer these words of thanks and congratulations to both the men and women inside and outside the Democrat-Capital for their untiring efforts in publishing the nice, convenient paper with news from different parts of the world. Everyone should appreciate it very much.

Irwin Raut (703 West Seventh)—In connection with National Temperance Sunday, Oct. 26, which will be observed by many churches, the following information may be of public interest:

Alcohol is produced from decaying organic matter thru fermentation. Alcohol is a powerful solvent and dehydrant: (1) alcohol dissolves fats, greases, oils and causes them to mix with other substances; (2) alcohol extracts water from substances — is a drier. Alcohol is valuable in industry; is used in making rubber, inks, perfumes, cosmetics, medicines, paints, enamels, synthetics, anti-freeze, and many other commodities.

From a medical stand point alcohol is an anesthetic (causes numbness), a sedative (causes insensibility to pain), a narcotic (induces sleep or stupor), a habit forming, addiction producing drug, a poison (5 drops of alcohol to 1000 drops of blood in the system may cause death). When taken into the body, alcohol passes directly and unchanged into the blood stream, affecting the nervous system and the brain, fogging the mind, dulling judgment, releasing inhibitions, slowing physical reactions.

Some people claim that alcohol is a food. Alcohol produces heat, but true food also builds and repairs tissues, creates physical energy, can be stored in the body. Alcohol does not meet these requirements.

Some people claim that moderate drinking is not harmful. Alcohol is habit forming and addiction producing; 1 out of 15 moderate drinkers becomes a steady drinker, 1 out of 4 steady drinkers becomes an addict.

Some people claim that alcoholics are sick. Alcoholics require sympathetic, patient nursing care, rest, food, total abstinence from liquor. There is no medicine for the prevention or cure of alcoholism. Medical books do not list alcoholism as a sickness or disease. Alcoholism is self-induced, is the end result of a first voluntary drink.

Alcohol is a health problem — not 4 in the U. S. There are more cases of alcoholism than of tuberculosis, cancer, polio, or heart disease.

Sunday School Lesson

What Jesus Taught About Faith
BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
Perhaps the most distinctive and at the same time the most puzzling, thing that Jesus said about faith is in the words recorded in Matthew 17:20: "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, you shall say unto this mountain, remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you."

These words offer no puzzlement for us today, when we see such things actually being accomplished. Beacon Hill, in Boston, at the top of which I worked editorially for some years, is, I believe, only about one-third of its original height in the days of Puritan settlement when it got its name from the high, placed beacon which guided ships far out at sea.

This is a process that I have seen going on and the visitor who looks over the bay as he travels along the shore from Boston to New York can see the result.

This is an interpretation of the words of Jesus that we could easily make today, the greater works that were yet to be accomplished. But I don't think it is the interpretation that Jesus intended. I am wondering what the words meant to the disciples to whom they were spoken, and what Jesus intended them to mean.

It can be said that they were spiritually immature and were not with reference to power-moving machinery. Did they refer to material mountains? Were they intended to be interpreted with cold literalism?

I hardly think so. Jesus spoke at times in strong, vivid, eastern figures of speech, such as the reference to the camel going through the eye of a needle. I doubt whether the disciples would misunderstand, or interpret the words with the literalism that we possess. Westerners are too wont to bring to the reading of the Bible. Jesus was about to give to these disciples a seemingly impossible task. He was sending them out to preach the Gospel to every creature, to make disciples of all nations. What a vast, momentous task that must have seemed to those few unknown men as they faced the immense Roman Empire, with its materialism, its power, and its paganism.

I wonder whether it was not these very words of Jesus that they must have recalled as they faced that mountain-moving task. And with what amazing results the power of faith was vindicated, both the Roman Empire and the whole world have known.

It is that sort of faith that we need today.

Cecile Tillbery Brings Added Joy to a Chicago Bride

Cecile Tillbery, who went to Chicago to reside a few years ago after spending most of her life in Sedalia, had never heard of a bride's apron, but when a pretty little girl who worked in her office was about to be married she told of wanting to carry out the Slovenian custom of the bride's apron. Cecile adored the little blond girl who worked at the next desk and was intrigued by the idea of the bride's apron.

As plans went on for Ann's big wedding every now and then Cecile would ask if she had yet bought the apron — but the answer was always no. Ann's mother is dead and Cecile felt that had she been living she would have been making that apron — the little apron that the bridegroom ties on his bride at the wedding reception, transforming her from a bride into a housewife.

The wedding drew nearer and so Cecile asked again about the apron, but Ann still hadn't bought it.

Women Can Have Business Career In Own Homes

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Any housewife, says Helen Scott of Stamford, Conn., can have a successful business career at home. Because every woman has one thing she can do better than anybody else.

Helen, who is in private life Mrs. Martin P. Schultz, wife of a sales executive, found that she could bake better pies and cakes than anybody she knew, and on that has founded a successful business.

She started it several years ago when her husband was convalescing from a serious and costly operation. After sounding out a number of her friends, Helen started taking weekend orders for baked goods, worked three days a week filling the orders, and netted a profit of $40 to $45 a week until her husband was on his feet again.

Helen Scott spoke recently to a group of housewives in Buffalo, N. Y., at a meeting sponsored jointly by the advertising women of Buffalo and the Women's Division of the N. Y. State Department of Commerce, and said:

"To you who are interested in perfecting your skills and talents, no matter how burdened you may be with household responsibilities, life can be turned into a joyous victory if only you have the will to make it so."

After starting a successful home-baking business, Helen won more plaudits and also dollars for her book, "Baking for Profit" and now is embarking on a business of making and marketing frozen pies.

Maybe you've been cherishing a recipe for Aunt Martha's bread-and-butter-pickles, or grandmother's elderberry jam.

Maybe you have a skilled hand with a sewing machine or a pair of knitting needles.

Maybe you're a renowned party-giver, or a genius at entertaining children.

Perhaps you have a knack of making and designing children's clothes, or have stumbled on a cosmetic formula which can be made at home.

Any of these can be money in the bank, says Helen Scott. All you have to do is market them—make them better than anybody else—and then market them.

Smith-Cotton Opens Homecoming Activity

Smith-Cotton homecoming festivities started at 7 p. m. Thursday at Ninth and Massachusetts with a snake dance which went from there down Ohio to Main and then back up Ohio. The dance stopped at Third and Ohio and pep yells were given while the band played. The snake dance attracted nearly two-thirds of the student body and a good many of the school faculty. The rally was one of the largest witnessed in Sedalia in many years.

After the dance students gathered behind the school building for a bonfire and pep yells.

Smith-Cotton climaxes its homecoming at 8 p. m. Friday on Liberty Park gridiron against the Jefferson City Jays.

The bonfire was started before the down town rally was over by persons believed to have been from Jefferson City.

Tigers All Set For Jays

The Smith-Cotton Players Confident They'll Deliver Plenty of Trouble

Tonight may be the night for the Jefferson City Jays — at least that is what they are hoping. Back in 1945 was the last time the Capital City team defeated the Tigers and that was a first class tromping 45-0. Since then it has been all Smith-Cotton.

The Jays are enjoying a successful "big score" season on their part, with the Smith-Cotton Central Missouri Conference game they dropped to Columbia, when the score was 27 to 6 in favor of the Kewpies. The most recent Jefferson City win was a shutout of 27-0 over Springfield last Friday night.

Smith-Cotton received a shock at the beginning of the week when three players dropped from the Tiger grid activities. But as Coach Monday night, when Coach Ralph Dow had to make a quick switch of players, the change seemed to click and worked to perfection for the Tiger men as a whole in their practice sessions.

Harned Undergoes Operation
Two stayed from the lineup but on Thursday night Benji Harned, who had turned in his equipment returned to go to work. Coach Dow welcomed Harned with open arms and was all set to give him some reserve playing tonight. But Harned was taken ill suddenly on Thursday night and rushed to the Bothwell Hospital.

Early this morning Harned underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis. So he's out for the rest of the season.

The Tigers are all "steamed-up" for tonight. They are hopeful and anything can happen. If they win tonight it will be an upset. But the frame of mind the Tigers are in means the Jays will have a real fight on their hands.

Kesterson a Jay Tackle
Jim Kesterson, left tackle of the Jays, is the grandson of Judge J. V. Kesterson, presiding judge of the Pettis County Court. Judge Kesterson will view the game tonight with mixed emotion — torn between his loyalty to the Tigers and his love for his grandson. But he admits his loyalty is strong for the hometown grid team.

Coach Dow and his staff coaches Howard Glavin and Bob Edmondson all say the boys who were moved about have been very impressive in the practice sessions. The changes may mean the difference of victory and defeat tonight. The coaches have had nothing but praise for their players, after the way they have accepted the changes in the lineup for the game.

"Win or lose, I'll say it now and say it after the game," Dow remarked, "these boys have been wonderful all week. I'm sure they will put everything they have into the game to beat Jefferson City."

Junior Tigers Win Over Junior Jays Thursday 32-7

Smith-Cotton freshmen defeated the Jefferson City freshmen at Liberty Park Thursday afternoon, 32-7. The Jays are still smarting from the drubbing the aggregation received, and wonder if it is an indication.

The Junior Tigers were trouncing across the Jay goal four times in the first half. The visitors failed to score in the first half.

In the second half the teams fought on even terms with each scoring one touchdown.

The Sedalia fans had the Jefferson City boys outweighed all the way down the line and in the backfield which gave them somewhat of an advantage.

Adlai Defends U. S. In Korea
EN ROUTE WITH STEVENSON THROUGH NEW YORK STATE — Adlai Stevenson, carrying his presidential campaign across New York state today, defended United States entry into the Korean War as a stand for collective security.

"It is not Mr. Truman's war," he asserted. "It is mankind's war."

The Democratic candidate called for support of the United Nations as the best hope for world peace, in a follow-up of his impassioned speech last night accusing his Republican opponent, Dwight D. Eisenhower, of deliberately condoning a "sly and ugly" campaign.

Speaking to an estimated 5,000 people at Rochester, N. Y., this morning, Stevenson assailed Eisenhower's proposal to let South Korea do the fighting in Korea.

He would "risk a Munich in the Far East with a third world in the rear behind," the Illinois governor said.

Kelley and his wife, Pauline, have been living with his mother, Mrs. Beatrice Kelley. Kelley went to Kansas City Monday and was accepted Wednesday.

Sgt. Walker said that Kelley would not be included in the October quota for Air Force enlistments because of his previous service. That leaves room for another enlistment. Four out of October's quota of six enlistments have been filled already, he said.

He also added that high school graduates may enlist for special army training schools and will receive their assignments at those schools before they are inducted.

Conaway, Pettis 4-H'er, Finds Area Traffic Mishaps Show Big Increase

"Jim Conaway of the Hillview 4-H Club turned in a fine report on his 100 bushel corn project," says Jim Perry, assistant county agent. "While Jim did not reach his 100 bushel goal, he did make money on the project." After doing some careful figuring with his father, Jerry Conaway, Jim decided to handle his corn in such a way as to make him the most money.

Here are the figures that convinced him of the advisability of enlarging the corn. In an itemized account of his soil treatment, Jim says that he put on $54.56 worth of ammonium nitrate, $15 of 10-20-0, $13 of 8-24-8, and $21.90 of 0-47-0. This cost a total of $104.46 for three acres. He figured that his seed cost $6 and the plowing, discing, planting and cultivating amounted to $15. This made a total of $125.46 or $41.82 per acre.

In deciding which method of harvesting would realize the largest profit, Jim and his father did some careful figuring. The corn would yield 40 bushels per acre giving a total of 120 bushels of corn. Figuring corn at $1.50 per bushel, the crop harvested for grain grossed $180. This gross minus the cost of $125.46 would have given a net return of $54.54.

However, with hay short and high priced around over the country, Jim figured that the crop would return more in the form of silage. The three acres of corn cut out 42 tons of silage. Figuring this is worth $7 per ton after harvesting costs were taken out, the crop grossed $274 in silage. The net value of the silage after taking out production cost of $168.54 or $56.18 per acre. In other words, Jim increased his returns $14.36 per acre by keeping a few production costs out.

Jim's dad says that the difference in the fertilized corn and the unfertilized check plot was really something to see. He claims that he has never seen corn grow as fast as that did.

"Jim's 100 bushel corn project is just one of 19 similar projects carried by Pettis County 4-Hers that typifies the practical farm experiences that may be had through 4-H Club work," claims Perry.

The October estimates were a shade stronger for like than the Labor Day survey, but not enough to sway the statewide result.

Four years ago Harry Truman carried his home state by a smashing 262,000 vote majority over Thomas E. Dewey.

This year the Associated Press sent questionnaires to newspaper editors and reporters in all the 114 counties and the City of St. Louis. They were asked to give their best estimates of how the Nov. 4 voting would go in their home counties.

Then their percentage estimates were translated into votes, based on the same size vote as 1948.

Four years ago, slightly more than 1,500,000 Missourians voted in the presidential election. This year all the authorities agreed the vote will be much greater — perhaps close to 2,000,000. That would be a record.

Registration is not required everywhere in the state but in cities having registration systems, the figures have soared this year. Some of this big registration has come without much help from either of the regular party organizations.

And that has made the political wonder. Who are these new voters? And how will they cast their ballots in the secrecy of the polling place?

They aren't talking and that has worried leaders of the major parties. Some of the newspaper editors who participated in the latest survey said this "silent vote" could be decisive in their counties.

But in the editors' opinion there was no big general shift between Labor Day and mid-October.

Many said the furor over the expense fund of Sen. Richard Nixon, Republican vice presidential nominee, had increased public interest in the election. But they were sharply divided on the effect it would have on the voting.

Generally, those in Republican areas thought Nixon's radio and television report to the nation had helped the GOP cause. But editors in solidly Democratic counties said they thought the Democrats had gained in the exchanges over candidates' expenses and incomes.

Since the estimates were interpreted statistically in terms of the 1948 vote, they may not mean much if the 1952 turnout is as heavy as expected.

For what it's worth, Stevenson on this basis had an edge of about 111,000 in the first survey. And by mid-October that had shrunk to slightly more than 96,000. On a percentage basis, the change was only a fraction of one per cent.

Normally the big city votes in Kansas City and St. Louis are controlling factors in Missouri elections. They showed no change during the interval between surveys, both staying in the Democratic column.

St. Louis County, a normally Republican area, also was unchanged — still for Ike.

Outstate, a few counties shifted slightly but the gains were so evenly balanced between the two parties they had no effect on the statewide total.

No big upsets developed anywhere in the survey.

The editors' comments as the election neared showed the campaign was being debated pretty much along these lines:

The voters leaning toward Ike said they wanted a change and a cleanup in Washington.

Those leaning toward Stevenson said they were disappointed that Ike had joined forces with the GOP "Old Guard."

A number of those submitting estimates — from newspapers of all shades of political opinion — said the state campaign would have a strong influence on the presidential voting in Missouri.

In the U. S. senate race this year, Republican Sen. James F. Kem is fighting for a second term against Stuart Symington in a bitter battle. Kem has been aligned with conservative anti-administration forces in the Senate. Symington, a former administration trouble-shooter, won the Democratic nomination without President Truman's help but Hennings had been endorsed by Mr. Truman.

In the governorship race, former Gov. Phil M. Donnelly, the Democratic nominee, Rep. Howard Elliott, speaker of the house during part of Donnelly's term, is the Republican candidate. Like Kem and Symington, they have been engaged in a hammer and tongs battle.

One surprise in the October survey was the comment that the President's whistle stop tour through Missouri and much of the West had hurt rather than helped the Democratic cause. This note cropped up both from a Republican and a Democratic county.

There was no general agreement on the farm vote, which played such an important role in the Midwest four years ago. One Republican editor said he thought weakening livestock prices had hurt the Democrats. But an editor in a Democratic county said the farmers in his area were going to vote for Stevenson.

Newsman Guess Missouri Still Goes to Demos

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — President Truman's home state is still Democratic. That's the best guess of Missouri newspapermen, two weeks before the election.

They thought the same around Labor Day. During the hectic campaign in September and the first part of October, nothing happened to make them change their minds enough to reflect in a statewide survey.

They still thought Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois would carry Missouri for the Democrats over Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee.

The October estimates were a shade stronger for like than the Labor Day survey, but not enough to sway the statewide result.

Four years ago Harry Truman carried his home state by a smashing 262,000 vote majority over Thomas E. Dewey.

Area Traffic Mishaps Show Big Increase

The eight county area of which Pettis County is a part has shown a decided increase in fatalities, accidents, personal injuries and property damage caused from automobile accidents. This information has been released by the Missouri State Highway Patrol thru Capt. O. L. Viets, Troop A, Lee's Summit and Capt. C. E. Potts of Troop F, Jefferson City.

In the Troop A 13-county area, of which Pettis County is a part, 2,185 accidents have been investigated by the patrol on the highways outside of cities of 10,000 population or more. This corresponds with the same period of 1951 when 1,987 accidents were investigated. Some 119 persons have been killed as against 93 in 1951; 1,700 persons injured, compared with 1,488, and property damage has been $1,185,635 compared with $962,751.

The Troop F, 12-county area, reports has no comparison with the previous year. However, the first nine months of this year show 933 accidents; 687 personal injuries; 28 persons killed; and property damage amounting to $542,860.

Two counties included in the 8-county report are Morgan and Cooper counties which belong in Troop F. All other counties are a part of Troop A.

Adlai Charges Ike Condones Ugly Campaign

ENROUTE WITT STEVENSON — Gov. Adlai Stevenson's impassioned accusation that Dwight D. Eisenhower is deliberately condoning a "sly and ugly campaign" against him opened a bitter new phase today in the stretch drive for the presidency.

It looked like a savage and bare-knuckle fight was the inevitable ending for this hard-fought battle.

The Democratic candidate ripped into Eisenhower last night in Cleveland with a speech in which he defended the character testimony he gave for Alger Hiss, convicted of perjury after denying he gave State Department secrets to a Russian spy ring.

And Stevenson attacked his GOP opponent and John Foster Dulles—Republican foreign affairs adviser—as being even more vulnerable to criticism than he in the Hiss case.

It was known that Stevenson and his advisers regarded the speech as one of the most vital of the entire campaign—and one which possibly could make or break Stevenson on the issue of communism.

In his combination of defense and attack, Stevenson voiced his conviction he expected to be the target for a smear campaign in the next few days—and that he considers Eisenhower responsible.

He did not use the word "smear" in his address but he left no doubt of his meaning when he spoke to a wildly cheering crowd in the Cleveland Arena.

His speech was televised to the nation by NBC in a last-minute arrangement. It was later broadcast by recording over the CBS and Mutual radio networks.

With this speech behind him—the most emotional in all his campaigning—Stevenson set out early this morning by train for a sweep through politically potent New York State with its big chunk of 45 electoral votes.

His schedule called for 14 speeches in 14 hours—the most intense barnstorming drive of his entire campaign.

The towns and cities to be visited were Niagara Falls, Rochester, Canandaigua, Geneva, Seneca, Auburn, Syracuse, Rome, Utica, Little Falls, Amsterdam, Schenectady, Albany and Troy.

In part, Stevenson's speech last night was in anticipation of a national - televised speech which Sen. Joseph McCarthy is ready to make Monday night. That speech reportedly deals with Stevenson's relationship with Hiss while the two were government employees.

The Democratic candidate said McCarthy will appear in the "planned climax of the Republican campaign—as the very voice of the wing of the Republican party that lost the nomination but won the nominee."

"You will hear from the senator from Wisconsin," he said, "with the permission and approval of Gen. Eisenhower."

Defending the testimony he gave in the Hiss defense in the form of a deposition, Stevenson asserted: "I testified as to his reputation as of the time I knew him. It was good. If I had said it was bad, I would have been a liar. If I had refused to testify, I would have been a coward."

And then he said later: "I resent—and I resent bitterly—the sly and ugly campaign that is being waged in behalf of the general, and I am deeply shocked that the general would lead a so-called 'crusade' which accepts calumny and the big doubt as its instruments...."

Mule and Automobile Collide, Car Comes Out Only Second Best

ST. LOUIS — A mule, on a rampage, and an automobile collided on Gravois Road in St. Louis County yesterday — the auto coming out second-best.

Gene Bodine, 65, of suburban Sappington, was driving his 1951 sedan when he saw the mule galloping down the street with several people close behind.

Bodine skidded to a quick stop. The mule didn't. The whole left side of the car was dented and the windshield was broken. The mule, which then permitted itself to be captured, suffered minor bruises and cuts.

Famed Newsman Will Speak To Knife and Fork Club Here

Members of the Sedalia Knife and Fork Club will have an opportunity to meet one of the South's top notch radio and newspaper writers when Nicholas P. Mitchell, editor of The Greenville News, one of South Carolina's leading daily papers, author, columnist, and distinguished adult educator, is the guest of honor at the meeting of the organization Monday night, Oct. 7. The dinner will be served at Hotel Bothwell.

A large crowd of members is expected to greet this popular speaker. Rated by his colleagues as a newsmen's newsmen, Mitchell is particularly concerned with propaganda, slanted or biased news interpretation, and other practices which make it difficult for the reading or listening public to get a fair picture of either national or international developments.

Nick Mitchell is a Texas-born political scientist whose work as educator and newsmen has carried him to many parts of the world. A graduate of the University of Texas and of Duke University, from which he received a Ph. D. degree one month after he turned 22, he spent the early years of his career as a professor in such outstanding Southern universities as Duke, Louisiana State, Furman, Richmond and George Peabody. More than a dozen years ago he turned to radio and newspaper work and has risen rapidly in the field. He has covered most of the major political events in our nation in the past decade and a half.

Few people in the South were surprised when James F. Byrnes, almost immediately after becoming governor of South Carolina, appointed Nicholas P. Mitchell to the important post of chairman of the State Advisory Council on Adult Education. He has won national recognition in this field.

Biggest 'Copter Undergoes Test In First Flight

CULVER CITY, Calif. — Howard Hughes' jet helicopter, built for the Air Force, made its first public flight yesterday.

Hughes watched it perform from his automobile, parked in a bean field near Los Angeles International Airport. The 20-ton 'copter, the biggest ever built, darted sideways and backward at no time during the test were its wheels more than 40 feet from the runway.

It was not the first test for the experimental craft. These have been going on for weeks. The craft, known as the XH17, is the forerunner of powerful cargo-carrying helicopters that will deliver such stuff as bridge sections, trucks and extremely heavy arms.

Hughes declined to pose with the craft, saying: "I had very little to do with this ship. These are the men who designed it and flew it. I don't want to take the bows."

Nevertheless, the flight was delayed for 40 minutes. Hughes was late arriving, and, as one official explained: "They don't turn a wrench around here without Hughes' ok."

Chileans Convene For Term Opening

SANTIAGO, Chile — The national Congress meets today to choose Carlos Ibanez del Campo president of Chile for a six-year term beginning Nov. 3.

Ibanez, who will be 75 years old on inauguration day, ran for president as an independent and polled 446,439 votes of the 937,102 ballots cast. Arturo Matte Larraín, the rightist candidate, received 265,357 votes.

Under Chile's Constitution, the Congress chooses the president from the two candidates who polled the most votes if neither attained a majority. The size of Ibanez' popular victory made his selection a certainty.

Ibanez is a national senator and former president of Chile. He served as chief executive between 1927 and 1931.

Coal Industry Frames Appeal For Wage Hike

WASHINGTON — The soft coal industry today was reported framing an appeal to President Truman and Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam to approve the $1.90 daily wage hike won by John L. Lewis.

The nation-wide soft coal strike, now in its fifth day, followed a Wage Stabilization Board ruling last Saturday that only $1.50 of the negotiated increase could be paid on grounds that any more would "damage" the stabilization program.

The report that an appeal is under study came from an official who has been in close touch with all phases of the case but who asked not to be identified.

A substantial portion of the struck industry was described as just as eager as Lewis to settle on the full wage increase and get production going again. An appeal to the President and Putnam, it was felt, would at least serve to remove the deadlocked situation from dead center.

An air of uneasiness prevailed in some mine areas. Violence flared in Ohio, Virginia, and West Virginia yesterday.

At Zanesville, O., a non-union mine owner was forced from his car at gun point and slugged. His mine superintendent was fired on twice, and his equipment set afire after he fled.

Gunfire was exchanged between seven miners of a non-union operation at Oakwood, Va., and an unidentified group that attacked their cabin. No one was hurt. It was the second time this week that gun play occurred in the area.

Dynamite blasts wrecked one steel railroad bridge and severely damaged another. Earlier this week train crewmen reported they were fired on.

Efforts to find a way out of the wage boost dilemma also were being made by David L. Cole, new chief of the Federal mediation Service, Cole, Lewis and Harry M. Moses, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, conferred privately late yesterday afternoon. Precisely what they discussed was not learned but it looked like the first attempt by a government official to find some solution to the deadlock.

Industry lawyers have spent the last few days in close scrutiny of the Defense Production Act, which contains the authority for price and wage controls. They were described as convinced that either Putnam, the overall administrator of the stabilization program, or the President could overrule the WSB. An appeal to the WSB itself would also be possible but the industry apparently saw little chance that the board would overrule its own decision.

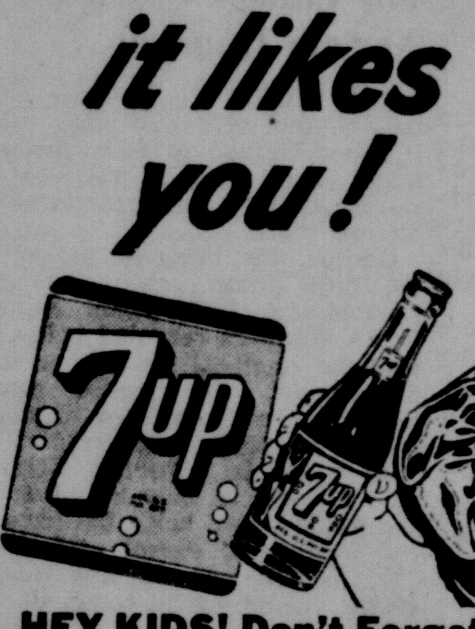

The industry was described as not too hopeful that an appeal would be successful. Putnam has already praised the WSB, headed by Harvard law Prof. Archibald Cox, as "very courageous" in making its cutback decision. But Truman has not said a word, either about the WSB ruling or the strike.

The WSB has never been overruled in the past but, at the end of last summer's steel strike, the White House approved an increase in the price of steel nearly twice as high as that authorized by then Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall.

Taft Says HST Tries 'Divine Right of Kings'

PHILADELPHIA — Sen. Robert A. Taft said last night President Truman is attempting to create a "sort of divine right of kings" in American politics with Adlai Stevenson, Democratic nominee for president, as his "true disciple."

The Ohio senator, addressing a GOP rally on behalf of the candidacy of Dwight D. Eisenhower, to whom he lost the Republican presidential nomination last summer, said the President is trying to surround himself with an aura of infallibility.

"Every once in a while," Taft said, "the President says 'I see an emergency,' even when there is no emergency."

Truman, Taft added, "started a war in Korea without authorization of Congress. He claims the right to send U. S. troops wherever in the world he chooses," and added: "Stevenson is a true disciple of the Truman philosophy."

Taft said Stevenson's only apparent "measure against the Communists is price control." He said he arrived at this conclusion from an analysis of Stevenson's argument that Soviet Russia largely determines the American budget because such a large percentage of it goes towards defense appropriations.

"But price control doesn't prevent inflation," Taft said.

The President, Taft said, tries to convince the American people the Republican party "is the party of great corporations and special interests and complete contempt for the welfare of the little man."

A careful reading of Mr. Truman's speeches," the Ohioan said, "shows his belief in all-powerful government. . . . Nothing is so dangerous or costly to the little fellow as government spending, taxation and control."

On the subject of inflation, Taft said that "no one is better off today in America; many are worse off today."

Progressive Pushes Two-Point Program

PHILADELPHIA — The Progressive party candidate for president, Vincent Hallinan, says the solution to ending the Korean War rests on his two point program.

Campaigning in Philadelphia last night, the San Francisco lawyer told a rally a cease-fire should be negotiated with the Reds and then the question of prisoner exchange should be negotiated by civilian representatives of all countries involved in the war.

Mrs. Charlotta Bass of New York, the party's vice-presidential candidate, predicted the party will receive a big vote in the Nov. 4 elections because "Americans are dissatisfied with the campaigns, platforms and candidates of the major parties."

He was 17-year-old Lillie R.

Six of Top 10 Teams Meeting Head-on Sat.

NEW YORK (AP)—A intercollegiate football program that would do credit to the annual post season bowl competition on Jan. 1 will be presented tomorrow as six of the nation's top 10 teams meet head-on.

California, No. 4, clashes with Southern California, No. 7, in a game that may go a long way towards deciding the Pacific Coast Conference representative in the Rose Bowl.

Duke, No. 6, generally regarded as the king pin of the Southern Conference, tangles with Virginia, No. 9, best of the Southern independents, and UCLA, also very much in the running for the Rose Bowl, takes on 10th-ranked Wisconsin, the Big 10 title favorite, at Madison.

Wisconsin is the only one of the sextet that has lost a game. The Badgers have a 3-1 record. All of the others, except Virginia, are each undefeated in five games. The Cavaliers have won all four of their outings.

The remainder of the top 10, with the possible exception of top-ranked Michigan State, take on what figures to be comparatively easy competition. The Spartans with a 4-0 slate play host to the Nittany Lions of Penn State, who have only a tie with Purdue to spoil an otherwise perfect five-game record.

Maryland, No. 2, plays host to a weak Louisiana State (2-3) eleven while Oklahoma, No. 3, tangles with Kansas state in a Big Seven Conference fray. Georgia Tech's Ramblin' Wreck, No. 5, goes after the Southeastern Conference, with Vanderbilt, (1-2-2) as the opponent.

And if the games among the top 10 are not enough to satisfy you, there are such encounters as Pennsylvania-Navy, Purdue-Illinois, Holy Cross-Syracuse, Kansas-Southern Methodist, Minnesota-Michigan, North Carolina-Notre Dame, Princeton-Cornell, Stanford-Washington and Ohio State-Iowa.

From an audience standpoint, the Purdue-Illinois contest is "the" game. It is the game approved by the NCAA for nationwide television. Purdue, unbeaten in the conference and with an overall record of 2-1, also has designs on the league title and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Sports Roundup—

Brion Can't Fight Much; He Keeps Foe From Fighting, Too

NEW YORK (AP)—Having given the matter long and serious thought, the only conclusion was that the only way to win was to have been able to arrive at concerning tonight's heavyweight fight at Madison Square Garden is that Alphonse Weill, the manager of Rocky Marciano, still does a little matchmaking on the side for the International Boxing Club.

Perhaps it would be better to back up and start again. The fight, a 10-rounder, was between Ezzard Charles, one of many living ex-heavyweight champions, and Cesar Brion, a big, muscle-bound character from the Argentine who has been kicking around this country.

Babe Zaharias Against Field In Texas Open

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—It was Babe Zaharias against the field today as the veteran shot-maker moved into the semi-final round of the Women's Texas Open.

The Babe was forced into two extra holes yesterday before defeating stubborn Barbara Romack, 1 up, on the 20th green. The 19-year-old Sacramento, Calif., girl squared the match on No. 18 after Babe hooked her drive into an unplayable lie and had to take a penalty stroke.

The Babe, playing out of Tampa, Fla., these days muffed a short putt on No. 19 and the young Californian, the pressure telling, missed a six-footer to send the two-gal down to the 20th.

Mrs. Zaharias boosted her reputation as the last half century's top woman athlete on the 20th. She spanked a 60-yard, 9-iron shot within three feet of the pin and rammed the putt down for a birdie three and the victory. Miss Romack's birdie try was too bold.

The Babe faced Bea McWane of Birmingham, Ala., in today's semi-final battle after the old south star's 4 and 3 triumph yesterday over Nell Moody, Sherman, Tex.

In the other semi-final match, Fort Worth's Polly Riley, conqueror of Betty Gooden, San Antonio, in a 2-and-1 quarter final battle, faces Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kan.

Miss Smith earned the right to meet the Curtis Cup star with a 6-and-5 rout of Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, Fort Worth, who ousted favored Betty Rawls in a second round match Thursday.

Illini Power Cut, But They Still Get Nod

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Illinois vs. Purdue, the Big Ten's buffeted defending champions against a powerful pretender to the throne, is tomorrow's football dish for TV viewing fans across the nation.

It's homecoming for the Illini, so despite the national telecasting of the contest in cavernous Memorial Stadium, a sell-out crowd of 71,000 will be on hand.

The wizards of odds apparently went to print before the Illinois hospital list was published, so the Illini rate a one-touchdown favorite over a Purdue team which has lost only to Notre Dame in four starts.

Injuries especially have weakened Illinois in pass defense, a department that probably will be busy as Purdue's Dale Samuels tries to outpitch Illini Tommy O'Connell.

A back injury against Minnesota probably has ended the career of All-America safety Al Brocky, while Illini defensive backs Stain Wallace and Ken Miller will, perform with ailments.

Purdue enters the game bracketed with Minnesota and Michigan at the top of the Big Ten heap, each with a 2-0 record. The Boilermakers disposed of dangerous Ohio State 21-14 and trounced Iowa 41-14 in their two league starts.

Illinois struck out twice in two conference tries, bowing to Wisconsin 20-6 and Minnesota 13-7.

A victory over Illinois would give Purdue some debating material with Wisconsin should those two teams wind up in a deadlock for the title and a Rose Bowl bid.

In their one other start this season, the Boilermakers were tied by Penn State 20-20 in an opener. There will be one thing hanging heavily over Purdue's head tomorrow. The following weekend, the Boilermakers must take on the nation's No. 1 team, Michigan State.

The withdrawal of Jersey City and Elmira left only six league members. Wilkes-Barre, Scranton and Hazleton in Pennsylvania, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., and Manchester and Bridgeport in Connecticut. They decided it would not be financially wise for them to operate with such a geographic setup.

William Morgan of Hazleton, president of the Eastern League of Pennsylvania, said a meeting would be held Sunday in Wilkes-Barre with the idea of finding a place for the three Pennsylvania teams.

"I don't know whether we'll absorb Wilkes-Barre, Scranton and Hazleton into the Eastern League or form another circuit," Morgan said.

John J. O'Brien, president of the league since 1928, announced his resignation before last night's meeting but agreed to preside.

The only other year the circuit failed to operate was in 1932 when it was forced to close down because of the depression.

The report, which had no official source, was that the deal involved moving the Cardinals to Houston but not sale of the National League franchise.

It said the offer included a 55,000-seat stadium to be ready for the 1954 season and that the offer would leave the Cardinals to their average earnings of the last five years over a five-year period.

The stadium would become the property of the Cardinals after 25 years.

The reported offer also included payment of damages for moving the Texas League franchise from Houston to another city and payment of Cardinal rental on Sportsman Park in St. Louis for the term of the current lease—eight years.

Saigh, who has been here since Tuesday, departed early today for St. Louis.

Reds Improved In 1952 CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds really pounded National League pitching this season at least in comparison to the Reds' teams of yesteryear. To Reds as a team scored 615 runs in the 1951 club's 559; hit 45 triples against last year's 33; clouted 104 homers against 88 in 1951 and batted in 563 runs as compared to last year's 528. Also, this was the third Cincinnati team to hit over 100 homers in one season. The 1938 team hit 110 and the 1948 outfit had 104.

Bass Retrieved From Sahuaro Lake SAHUARO LAKE, Ariz. (AP)—The Fisheries Division of the Arizona Game and Fish Commission reports that over 550 pounds of large spawners have been retrieved from Sahuaro Lake which is in the process of being completely drained. A total of 130 brood bass were retrieved that were five pounds or over. The heaviest fish weighed eight and a half pounds. Many smaller bass were placed in holding ponds at nearby Papago Hatchery for restocking Sahuaro Lake when the dam is closed.

Frank Ervin, Sedalia, Is His Driver— Good Time Retires, Set Mark For Earnings by Harness Horse

Good Time, the famous pacer who has raced here and who set a world record on the track at the Missouri State Fair, is being retired. For most of his races he has been driven by a Sedalia, Frank Ervin. The pair teamed up twice this year for two of the year's few harness races run in less than two minutes.

Ervin was the driver in six of the 47 two-minute miles of the year. Besides the two with Good Time he had three with Sampson Hanover and one with Yankee Hanover.

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Good Time, king of the nation's pacers, said farewell to competitive racing like a true champion as he matched his own Yonkers Raceway record last night with a 2:01 mile.

The mighty mite from Bill Cane's Good Time Stable will make one more appearance but the stop watch will be his only rival. Next Thursday he'll attempt to break the world pacing record of 1:59 3-5 for a half-mile track set by Sampson Hanover at Delaware, Ohio, a year ago.

But from a competitive standpoint the six-year old son of Hal Dale closed out his career with a three-quarter length victory over Prince Adios last night. Frank Ervin brought the little sidewheeler off the pace to win the purse of $6,750 and boost his earnings for the year to $110,299.10 — a record of harness horses.

Good Time will go into stud at the Castleton Farm in Kentucky with total winnings of $318,792.86 — the largest amount ever accumulated by a pacer or trotter.

In his pre-championship days Charles used to flatten better than 50 per cent of his opponents. His record shows 76 wins, eight losses, and one draw. He has 48 kayos to his credit.

To Err Is Human FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP)—Here is a gridiron soul-searching note: After each game, Colorado A. & M. players are instructed to turn in to Coach Bob Davis a list of mistakes they believe they had committed. Then the coaches add to each player's list errors noted from the sidelines.

"This gives them a chance to correct these mistakes — and you'd be surprised how many they don't know they had made," David said.

Will Horse History Repeat? MIAMI (AP)—Folks around Hialeah are asking: "Will history repeat this year?"

Three years ago, I. J. Collins of Lancaster, O., bought Vulcan's Forge from C. V. Whitney. A few months later the horse won the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap. Now, Collins has purchased Vulcan's Forge full brother from Whitney. The horse's name is Cold Command and he will be pointed for the $100,000 Widener at Hialeah.

The victors had 21 first downs to eight for Culver-Stockton. Altogether Missouri Valley gained 522 yards, 111 of them in the air. It was Missouri Valley's second conference victory against no losses.

Gottlob Nears Record For College Offense At Sam Houston NEW YORK (AP)—With the football season only half gone, Don Gottlob of Sam Houston State seems well on his way towards setting a new small-college offense mark.

Gottlob, the unerring passer of the little Texas school, has accounted for 1,332 yards gained, NCAA statistics revealed today, to lead the small-college field in that department. The record established by Connie Callahan of Morris inside in 1949 is 2,006 yards.

As might be expected, Gottlob, who has gained only 22

Murder she yelled

THE STORY: Dan Morrison, a director at High Hill, doesn't like keeping a murder at the police and after the resort owner, Al Kemmer, no one was the killer in a gangster style. Dan investigates, preparatory to calling the authorities. Dan and Midge Barnett, the girl who originally found the body, meet C. D. Griscomb in the woods. Griscomb is an irritable old fellow who owns property across the lake and who objects to summer visitors. Dan tells Griscomb that he should stay on his own side of the lake, but Griscomb says he came to the High Hill side in pursuit of his dog.

AL KEMMER was sitting behind his desk, leaning back in his swivel chair, cradling his volleyball of a belly in both hands and contentedly chewing gum. "We're going to call the cops right now," I said. "Re-lax," said Al, fluttering a hand at me. I walked around him to the window and picked the phone off the sill. "Put it down—it's all taken care of," Al said comfortably. "I sent Eddie down to Stroudsburg to make the call from a public phone. You think I want them to trace the call to us? Now sit down and concentrate on your stomach muscles. Think of something limp—a wet dishrag." "I'm thinking of your brain—I'm limp all over." I went to the closet where I kept a utility wardrobe for the quick changes an athletic director has to make. Al kindly got out of his chair and pulled down the window shades while I slipped out of my clothes. I put on my flourescent orange swim trunks. The color was so that people could spot me fast in case of emergency. More important, it gave the guests something to make jokes about, write home about. Silly little touches like that keep summer guests happy. In the front half of the main tenance building, Chris Witmer, see how we could pop up the season, and I— "You told him we needed new talent." "Nope. At said—" "Morrison, I didn't like you the first day you came here. I like you even less now, if that's possible. You're a big-noise and a rat." She was sitting up now, her dark eyes slitting me. "You're supposed to stick to your canoes and tennis rackets, and you're trying to run everything. You've worked on Al till he don't know which side his ears are pinned on. And you're a liar, besides."

Her chin was quivering. She scrambled up on her long white legs. "Why don't you do the world a favor and croak?" While I was trying to work up an answer to that, Kitty stalked away, moving up the hill with dignity and a drooping diaphragm. I wasn't baffled by her behavior. She couldn't let herself think that Al had contacted Midge on his own hook. Kitty had been Al's entertainer for years, even back when he was operating taprooms. Kitty had stayed with Al for many a hard year, and she was now bumping along into the very late thirties, and it wasn't soothing to have to start sharing the stage with some new female.

KITTY'S spot on the grass didn't have a chance to cool off. A girl bounced down on it, a husky, rounder, jollier girl, a girl from the Frankford mill section of Philadelphia, with the disturbing name of Sally Ann Frushnick. "What's eating that one?" Sally Ann said, waving a large hand at Kitty's disappearing back. "Just tired of my company," I said. "She must be nuts. Any woman who walks away from a man nowadays hasn't read the latest statistics." "What's the latest statistics?" "For every unmarried woman there's only something like nine-tenths of a man available. Imagine that." "I'm sure you'll get a whole man, Sally Ann. With your appeal..." (To Be Continued)

Somehow nothing she had prepared for dinner tempted a mother, not even the fried chicken and gravy, so she began looking in her cabinet for something she thought she might like. She found a can of apricots and opened them. The small daughter of the family wanted some and her mother gave her just a tiny bit because she thought she would probably just taste them and not want them. But, no, she ate what she had and then wanted more. The mother gave her some more and she ate those, too. Then she wanted her daddy to have some. He said he didn't want any but the child insisted. "I don't like them," he said. And then she gave him the answer that is always given to her when she doesn't want something and is urged to eat it anyway: "Well," she said "Try it anyway and see."

confidential memo critical of Eisenhower's supporters leak to the press at this time. The memo was written by Taft to his backers right after he lost the GOP nomination, and in it he blamed his defeat on New York financial interests and the pro-Eisenhower Press. The memo was given to a few newspapermen, and states:

"First, it was the power of the New York financial interests and a large number of businessmen subject to New York influence, who had selected General Eisenhower for their candidate at least a year ago. "Four-fifths of the influential newspapers in the country were opposed to me continuously and vociferously," Taft declared, "and many turned themselves into propaganda sheets for my opponent. "The control of the Press enabled the Eisenhower people to do many things which otherwise could not have been done," Taft continued bitterly. "The making of a moral issue out of the Texas case was only possible because every international paper sent special writers to blow up a contest which ordinarily would have been settled fairly by the National Committee and the Credentials Committee." Taft added that the Eisenhower strategy was to reverse the convention rules and garner enough votes "to steal all the contested delegates." He claimed that he would have been glad to withdraw in favor of some other candidate, but that he could not bow out in favor of Gen. Douglas MacArthur before the first ballot, because this would have been "a surrender of principle and a betrayal of thousands of workers and voters who supported me." Taft also had a barb for Republican governors. "Like the editors," he complained, "The majority of Republican governors were sold on Eisenhower support."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round Justice Frankfurter Supplied Ike With Busybody Banker

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Some Republicans have blamed Sen. Cabot Lodge for putting Robert Cutler, Eisenhower's banker, aboard General Eisenhower's train. Cutler is the would-be speech-writer who demanded that other Eisenhower ghost-writers get up at 4 a. m. to write another speech when they had hit their berths only after midnight. However, Senator Lodge is in no way to blame. The man who put Cutler on the Eisenhower train, believe it or not, is none other than Justice Felix Frankfurter of the U. S. Supreme Court. Only a few people know it, but Frankfurter, who is considered a product of the New Deal, and who was elevated by FDR to the highest court in the land, has been flirting with the Republicans. In fact, he's been more than flirting. Never happy unless he has his finger in politics — despite his position on the supreme court — Felix has been an expert in putting his men in key positions in government. And following his pattern, he put his man on the Eisenhower train. Frankfurter's flirting with Eisenhower came about largely through the fact that two of his key friends — Kenneth Royall, former secretary of war, and Jack McCloy, the former commissioner to Germany, were now working for Eisenhower.

and General Motors to Michigan dealers to go all out for Congress man Charles Potter, the GOP candidate against Sen. Blair Moody. The money collections follow somewhat the same pattern as that put across in earlier years by Arthur Summerfield, now Chairman of the Republican National Committee. This time, however, the political collections are not based on the number of autos sold, but on cash quotas. Bigger dealers are told they must contribute around $1,000. Smaller dealers are given quotas nearer $200. And it is made clear that the number of cars they receive in the future will depend on the gifts they give to the GOP now. Details of the money raising are left to branch managers. However, John Bugas, right-hand man to Henry Ford II, has been contact man for the branch managers, theophile Harry Anderson, vice president of General Motors, has been doing the same for G. M. Harlowe Curtice, executive vice president of General Motors, and the man expected to take over the G. M. presidency, is close to Arthur Summerfield, who in addition to being National Chairman is the big Chevrolet dealer in the world. Summerfield is sometimes described among Michigan politicians as Curtice's messenger boy, and it was General Motors that switched him from Taft to Ike just before the Chicago convention. Taft's Private Memo Politicians are mystified as to why Senator Taft should have let a

26 Generals Must Retire In January

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twenty-six Army generals will be due for mandatory retirement next January.

But the Army probably will use a provision in an Officer Personnel Act to retain on duty at least one of them, Lt. Gen. Manton S. Eddy, commander-in-chief, U. S. Army, Europe, it was learned today.

The act provides that officers of the permanent rank of brigadier or major general (they may be holding higher ranks temporarily, as in the instance of Eddy) shall be retired upon completing five years in that grade and 35 years of commissioned service.

In answer to questions, an Army spokesman told a reporter this provision would affect 14 permanent major generals and 12 permanent brigadier generals, about half of whom are temporary major generals.

This will be the largest number of general officers to leave active duty at one time since the end of World War II. However, the Army currently has about 490 generals. They include one five-star officer (Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff); eight four-star generals, more than a score of three-star (lieutenant) generals and about 140 two-star (major) generals. Many of these are holding temporary rank called for by their current assignments.

The Officer Retirement Act permits the Army, during an emergency, to retain up to 10 general officers who otherwise would be retired until they reach the age of 64. It is under this provision that the Army is expected to keep Gen. Eddy at his important European assignment.

Among officers who apparently will come within the scope of the mandatory retirement law is Maj. Gen. Robert W. Grow, who was convicted by a court martial of improperly putting military secrets into a personal diary which was copied by a Soviet spy.

The same law will bring the retirement of about 200 permanent colonels, part of them next July 1 and the remainder on July 1, 1954.

Susan Peters Loses Paralysis Fight to Death

VISALIA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Susan Peters, whose fight against paralysis brought a living story of courage to Hollywood, lost her battle last night.

The attractive 31-year-old star, whose spinal cord was damaged in a hunting accident seven years ago, died while visiting her brother here.

In 1944 Susan was hailed as one of filmdom's most promising actresses, and her future looked bright. Then on New Year's Day, 1945, she went duck hunting with her husband. As she reached for her rifle, it accidentally discharged.

After months of hospitalization, Susan went home—paralyzed from the waist down. The doctors told her she'd spend the rest of her life in a wheelchair.

Two years later she came back to star in a movie again—this time as the crippled girl in "Sign of the Cross." She acted from her wheelchair, just as she did in the "Miss Susan" series for television she completed in Philadelphia prior to coming here.

Her death was attributed to complications arising from the 1945 accident. The brother, Robert Carnahan, said her only other survivor was an adopted son, Timothy, 7. Miss Peters and actor Richard Quine were divorced in 1948.

The actress was born Suzanne Carnahan in Spokane, Wash.

Seek Port Defense Against Atom Sneak

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—British atomic defense experts are trying to find a way to detect the approach of atomic weapons which might be smuggled into harbors aboard ship, the Canberra correspondent of the Sydney Sun said today.

Discovery of such detection methods, he said, is of vital importance to both Britain and Australia because their existence virtually depends on shipping, and, therefore, on their harbor facilities being kept intact.

POWs Injured At Pusan Camp

TOKYO (AP)—Communist prisoners of war were injured yesterday at Camp No. 2B, Pusan, Korea, after refusing to obey orders to form work details, Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters announced today.

Officials said none of the prisoners was injured seriously. Transfers of some prisoner leaders to another camp was at the bottom of the incident, headquarters explained.

Grammar Waits In Shadows Of Gallows as Attorney Acts

BALTIMORE (AP)—George Edward Grammar, convicted of murdering his wife because he "loved another woman," waited in the shadows of the Maryland state gallows today while his lawyer pondered a move for a new trial.

The attorney, Anthony Federico, told newsmen yesterday he would "probably" appeal the first degree murder conviction, an action almost routine in Maryland.

Judge Herman Moser, who under the law must order Grammar sent to prison for life or to death by a hangman's noose, withheld sentence until Federico makes his move.

The ordeal of the eight-day trial was visibly etched in the lines of the expressionless face of the 35-year-old New Yorker yesterday when he heard the judge announce the verdict—"Murder in the first degree."

Sitting as sole juror, Judge Moser found that Grammar murdered his 33-year-old wife, mother of three little girls, because he was "in love with another woman."

Dorothy May Grammar's brutally bludgeoned body was found

John Roosevelt Carries Boost For Ike to Texas

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Roosevelt, the late President's son who says America needs Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to lead us out of the wilderness, carries his Democrats for Ike crusade to Texas today.

FDR's youngest son told meetings here and in San Francisco that he believes Eisenhower is the best qualified to give the nation strong leadership.

"My father chose Gen. Eisenhower for that task because he recognized his rare talents, not only as a commander but as a statesman," Roosevelt said here. "Time and experience have proven how right the choice. It is an honor for me to uphold his judgment publicly."

Roosevelt's visit drew caustic remarks from his sister Anna and brother James, both supporters of Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee.

"I always felt he was a rather intelligent guy," said Anna. "I don't see how he could fall for the old Republican line."

Pointing to other Republicans in the family, Teddy Roosevelt for one, James cracked: "I guess each generation is entitled to one throw-back."

Browns Try Again After Court Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The warring Browns did it up brown in the courtroom. They quit battling and got hitched again.

Actress Georgia Pauline Brown, 31, was asking $488 a month alimony and support for two children by test pilot Theodore Hall Brown, claiming their 1946 Tijuana marriage wasn't legal because his divorce from a former wife wasn't final. She wanted him ousted from her home.

"Why don't you try again?" asked Judge Elmer D. Boyle.

"Ted, will you marry me?" she asked.

"You'll have to ask my attorney," replied Brown.

"It's not up to me," said the lawyer.

"Go and get a license and I'll marry you," said Judge Boyle.

They did and the judge did.

Letter Is Returned After Piggy-back Ride

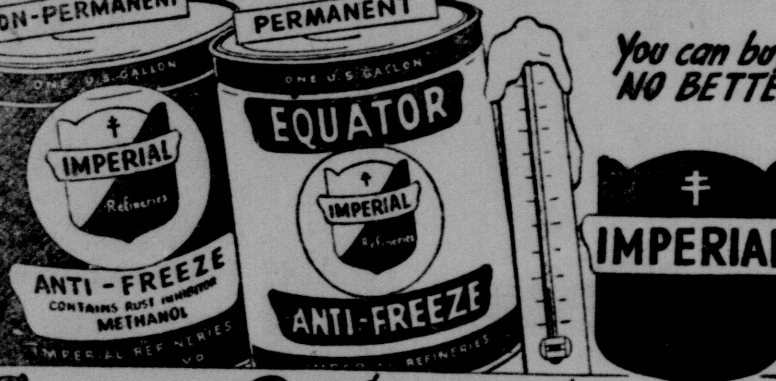

WITH U. S. SECOND DIVISION, Korea (AP)—A letter that rode "piggy-back" all the way from Georgia to the Korean front lines is on its way back to a woman in Jessup, Ga.

The letter was addressed to Mrs. R. M. Laughinghouse, Route 1, Jessup, from a sender in Savannah. But it became glued to the back of another letter sent to M. Sgt. Wayne B. James of Rosewell, Ga., a squad leader in the Ninth Infantry Regiment headquarters security platoon.

Soviet Scores In Pakistan Trading Deal

LAHORE, Pakistan, (AP)—Soviet Russia scored heavily on a propaganda squeeze play by concluding a wheat for jute and cotton barter deal with Pakistan one day before the Washington announcement of a 15 million dollar food loan to this grain-short nation.

Leftist leaders here are laughing heartily at the successful timing of Russia's agreement which permits Moscow to exchange wheat for two products it needs while getting credit for a humanitarian gesture.

Pakistan's vital Punjab Province, slated for the biggest slice of the Soviet wheat, already is thanking Russia for its "timely assistance." The thanks might be going to the other side of the Iron Curtain, some officials say, if the United States food loan had come a few days earlier.

An announcement of the Russian barter deal reached the Punjab just before the United States-Pakistan loan agreement was concluded in Washington. This permitted leftists here to broadcast that no American help would have been forthcoming if it had not been for the Russian move.

With the first Russian wheat shipments already reaching this area, grain prices have dropped sharply here, wheat is easier to buy in most markets and the sharp side of the food crisis is smoothed.

Those who look on Soviet trades and politics with a friendly eye point out that the barter deal with Pakistan permits this country to dispose of 22,000 tons of jute and 13,150 tons of cotton—now a glut on Pakistan's markets—for 1½ million tons of critically needed wheat. The American loan, they add, must be repaid.

Under terms of the barter deal Russian ships deliver the grain to Pakistan ports, loading Pakistan jute and cotton for the return voyages.

"If only the United States had acted a month or two earlier to grant a food loan, the Russian propaganda home run would have been impossible," said one official here.

"Now we are placed in the position of combating leftwing claims which too many people are ready to believe."

The admission, contained in a written statement to police, was denied by Grammar at the trial.

He contended it was made only because he wanted to put an end to lengthy interrogation sessions and get some sleep and some decent food.

Grammar worked for a metals and mining firm and was an agent of the U. S. Counter Intelligence Corps during World War II.

Railroads Still Transportation Key of US, Boosters Learn

The railroad industry of the U.S. is still the indispensable transportation network that supplies the lifeline of the nation, was the keynote opinion of a general meeting of Chief Boosters of the Missouri Pacific Lines, held in Memphis, Oct. 20 and 21, according to Palmer R. Nichols, Sedalia, who has just returned from Memphis.

Mr. Nichols, chief booster for the Missouri Pacific here, declared that the program of informative talks by department heads from the lines' home offices, and the general discussion periods that were held for the exchange of ideas on club activities proved most helpful and inspirational in re-evaluating the position of the railroads in the national scene and pointing up the importance of the railroad worker to his company and to the economic and social life of his community.

Nichols was one of more than 60 chief boosters from all over the system lines who assembled in Memphis for the annual get-together of these leaders of the company officials speak on such railroad topics as the future trend in passenger and freight traffic, the emphasis on the latter being in the specialized handling of less-than-carload merchandise.

"When installations of equipment now being made are completed in the near future, the Missouri Pacific will have more train radio communications in use than any other railroad in the world," said Nichols, quoting from a talk on that subject made at the Memphis meeting by the chief of the railroad's radio communications department.

"That means better freight service for our shippers by assuring more on-time schedules made possible by use of train radio to speed up movement of trains along the line and into and through the many terminals served by Missouri Pacific," Nichols asserted.

Along with learning of the progress of the audio-visual educational program for the lines' operating and mechanical department personnel, Mr. Nichols and his fellow chief boosters heard other items of interest about the system-wide program of Mo. Pac. to constantly improve and modernize its vast properties.

"In meetings like these," concluded Nichols, "one really gets to know the other fellow's problems and learns how to apply his solutions to problems of your own, but above all, we get the reassurance that we're working for a mighty fine railroad."

Stevenson Accuses General Of Pushing Doubt Campaign

Lewis Finds More Trouble With Owners

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Hard coal mine owners balked today at giving John L. Lewis the same $1.90 daily wage boost which the government already has partly shaved down in the soft coal industry.

Lewis was reported trying to get the anthracite or hard coal industry to grant the same wage raise in order to test the government's Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) again.

The WSB has ruled that 40 cents or the $1.90 soft coal raise would be inflationary and cannot be paid. This has led to a nationwide walk-out of the 350,000 soft coal miners.

Neither Lewis nor the anthracite industry negotiators would discuss what happened in their bargaining sessions. However, it was reliably reported the industry men had refused a demand from United Mine Workers Union President Lewis to match the $1.90 soft coal raise.

Hard coal operators contended to Lewis that they probably would face a strike of the 65,000 Pennsylvania anthracite diggers no matter what happened. Refusing Lewis the $1.90 would probably mean a strike. Granting the demand probably would lead to another partial veto from the WSB, and thus a walkout too.

The prospect was that the soft coal strike would continue for some time, perhaps until after the Nov. 4 national elections, and perhaps with the hard coal miners joining the walkout before very long.

Smith-Cotton Opens Homecoming Activity

Smith-Cotton homecoming festivities started at 7 p. m. Thursday at Ninth and Massachusetts with a snake dance which went from there down Ohio to Main and then back up Ohio. The dance stopped at Third and Ohio and pep yells were given while the band played. The snake dance attracted nearly two-thirds of the student body and a good many of the school faculty. The rally was one of the largest witnessed in Sedalia in many years.

After the dance students gathered behind the school building for a bonfire and pep yells.

Smith-Cotton climaxes its homecoming at 8 p. m. Friday on Liberty Park gridiron against the Jefferson City Jays.

The bonfire was started before the down town rally was over by persons believed to have been from Jefferson City.

Stephens Girl Loses Suit Over Explosion

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 23 (AP)—Shirley Ann Wilson, 14, of Stephens, northeast of Columbia, lost her suit in the Boone County Circuit Court today in which she sought $150,000 for burns sustained when kerosene exploded while she was starting a fire in her home last year.

Judge W. M. Dinwiddie ruled that Miss Wilson's evidence against the Phillips Petroleum Co. and William R. Julian, manager of the company's bulk plant at Jefferson City, was not sufficient for submission to a jury. His ruling came on a motion by defense attorneys after the jury had heard two days of testimony for the plaintiff.

Edwin C. Orr, attorney for Miss Wilson, said he would appeal the ruling to the state supreme court.

Ike Hits Injection Of Hatred

His Foes Will Use Any Method To Win In November States General At Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 23.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower accused the Truman administration tonight of injecting bigotry and class hatred into the presidential campaign, and said his political opponents speak with "the power mad voices of the rabble rousers."

The Democrats, he said, will do anything to win the election Nov. 4.

"Every boss of the administration party will go all out and down the line to deliver. They will deliver by fair means and foul," the general told his audience in a speech prepared for delivery at the Buffalo Memorial Auditorium.

His Buffalo appearance closed a hard day's campaigning through Upper New York state. He made eight stops, left his train on several occasions, and spoke to big and enthusiastic crowds all along the route—at Schenectady, Utica, Oneida, Syracuse, Lyons, Rochester and Batavia.

In the day's last speech here, Eisenhower used the strongest language he has ever employed to make his charge that the Democrats have deliberately brought about disunity in the United States and sapped the sources of the nation's strength.

"This unity is being undermined by our national administration," he said. "It is being weakened by men who are more concerned with getting power than for our nation's strength."

They Promote Disunity
"Year after year they have sought to make political profit by setting group against group, special interest against special interest, section against section."

"We hear shrill voices today creating distrust, disunity, and bigotry by falsely accusing others—including myself—of these evil things."

In this, Eisenhower apparently was referring to President Truman's message to the Jewish Welfare Board last Friday in which the President said Eisenhower had accepted "master race" principles on immigration policies.

Probably with an eye turned toward the Polish population of Buffalo, Eisenhower said: "I have seen first hand the devastating consequences of rabble rousing. Many of you have also seen those devastating consequences. They have been visited on some of your friends and loved ones. You know how prejudice, bigotry, and ill will have been rampant among men in other nations until those nations were torn apart and destroyed."

Election Heat No Excuse
He said that "even in the heat of a political campaign" these tactics should be guarded against.

He added: "These bearers of false witness seek to be known as the protectors of those among whom they plan to vote. They are the voices of the rabble rousers—the ignorant, irresponsible, the power mad voices of the rabble rousers."

The general recalled the 1928 campaign—when Herbert Hoover defeated the late Alfred E. Smith—to find a parallel for the present battle. Smith was a Catholic, and Eisenhower said that "the issue of bigotry was raised" in that campaign. He quoted Smith's statement of that day:

"In this spirit I join with fellow Americans of all creeds in a fervent prayer that never again in this land will any public servant be challenged because of the faith in which he has tried to walk humbly with his God."

Logger Uses A Tree To Bag A Buck Deer

SEATTLE, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Page Paul Bunyan:
Orville Haugstad of Stanwood, Wash., bagged a deer by hitting it with a tree.

A logger on Camano Island, north of here, Haugstad felled a tall tree and noted a movement in its branches.

Investigating, he found a two-point buck had been pinned by the falling tree. He finished it off with his axe, tied on the state deer tag he had planned to use on a hunting trip and walked into camp with his 92-pound bonanza.

OPS To Allow 2-Cent Boost In Pork Price

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The government tonight cleared the way for butcher shops to raise their ceiling one to two cents a pound for better pork cuts, such as center chops, bacon and hams.

The Office of Price Stabilization said its action will mean slightly lower ceilings on cheaper or less sought-after cuts, such as bellies, spareribs and loin and roasts.

The shifts in ceilings will be brought about by changes in the method by which meat retailers recalculate their pork products prices.

Effective Oct. 28 retailers buying fabricated or ready-cut pork can refigure their ceilings on the basis of percentage changes in their wholesale costs.

Until now these butchers have adjusted their ceilings weekly on the various cuts by the exact dollars and cents amount of change in their wholesale costs. OPS said this has meant expensive cuts have gone up by exactly the same amount as cheaper cuts.

As a result, the agency said, retailers have not been able to realize margins on pork items that they did before recent boosts in wholesale pork ceilings.

He Owns Good Chance In Three States

(Editor's Note: This story on the South and border states is the third of a series of five on the political outlook as newspaper editors and political writers see it, as now.)

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP)—Dixie newsman regard Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as an even money bet to rip apart the "Solid South."

Editors and political correspondents taking part in a second mid-October survey for the Associated Press can't see the general and the GOP as making any titanic sweep of 14 Southern and border states.

They do believe he'll win votes, however somewhere along widely scattered fronts—from Virginia to Florida to Texas and at such points in between as Louisiana and Tennessee.

For Dixie, this is a political year without parallel. The South has been wooed ardently, in person, for the first time, by both presidential candidates.

In return, Southerners are carrying on a heavy flirtation with Republican nominee Eisenhower, and probably will reward him with the biggest outpouring of votes ever accorded the GOP by low the Mason and Dixon Line. At the same time, they evidently are going to hold out enough ballots to make sure most of Dixie and the border states stick to their traditional love of the Democratic Party.

At this point it is by no means sure that Eisenhower can take a single state in this group. But if the election were held today newsmen from the area think he would have just about a 50-50 chance at Texas, Louisiana and Florida and their 44 electoral votes. Those three states are rated a toss-up, as they were in an earlier survey around Labor Day.

Virginia still is considered tilted slightly toward Democratic nominee Adlai E. Stevenson, but is more doubtful than ever as a result of Sen. Harry Byrd's refusal to endorse the Illinois governor.

Once shaky Kentucky, now expected to go Democratic, has been replaced in the doubtful column by neighboring Tennessee. The 23 electoral votes of Virginia and Tennessee thus are listed as question marks leaning toward Stevenson.

In addition to Kentucky, newsmen believe Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Oklahoma and West Virginia—with a total of 87 votes—are about as sure for Stevenson as anything can be in politics.

American Wins Nobel's Prize For Medicine

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 23 (AP)—Dr. Selman A. Waksman, a Russian-born American scientist, was awarded the 1952 Nobel Prize in medicine tonight for unlocking from earth mold the wonder drug streptomycin, the first effective antibiotic against tuberculosis.

Dr. Waksman, 64, is director of the Institute of Microbiology at Rutgers University in New Brunswick, N. J. He is the co-discoverer of the drug, which was made known to the medical world in 1943.

The soft-spoken scientist, informed in New Brunswick of the award for his years of research said he felt proud in "justifying the ancient saying: 'And from the earth shall come their salvation.'"

The award "is the culmination of the life's work, begun in 1915 with the study of a humble group of soil micro-organisms, actinomycetes, which have yielded in recent years some of the greatest benefits to mankind," he said.

The prize is worth $33,037 in cash, but it also put Dr. Waksman into the immortal ranks of scientists who have, in the words of Alfred Nobel's will establishing the award, "conferred the greatest benefit upon mankind."

He is the first to receive a Nobel award for achievements in the fight against tuberculosis since Robert Koch was similarly recognized in 1905 for his discovery of the tubercle bacillus and tuberculosis.

Sir Alexander Fleming shared the award in 1945 with Dr. Ernest Boris Chain and Sir Howard W. Florey for discovering penicillin.

America Requests A UN Endorsement Of Its Korea Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 23.—(AP)—The United States asked the U. N. Assembly today to endorse the principles for peace in Korea as laid down by the Allied command at Panmunjom. It also urged the Communists to accept an armistice on those terms.

The U. S. resolution was circulated as the 60-nation Political Committee battled an angry request by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to invite the Red North Koreans here for the Korean debates.

The vote was 38 to 11 against the Russian proposal.

Those voting to invite the Reds were the Soviet bloc plus Pakistan, India, Indonesia, Burma, Iran and Yemen. Eight countries abstained: Chile, Bolivia, Argentina, Syria, Israel, Mexico, Egypt and Saudi Arabia.

The committee voted 54 to 5 Soviet bloc to invite to the table the delegation of the U. N.-sponsored Republic of Korea. Yugoslavia also abstained on this vote.

Acheson Speech Delayed
A two-hour wrangle on the invitation put off a scheduled speech by Secretary of State Dean Acheson. His staff said he planned to talk three hours on the entire Korean situation. Acheson's spokesman said the address would be a "full and frank accounting" of the Korean negotiations and would disclose facts not previously made public.

Other diplomatic sources said "very high" American and Allied officials had appealed to India to do what it could for an armistice in Korea. These sources said the appeal was made before the Assembly convened Oct. 14 and again after the session had started. The appeal was relayed to Prime Minister Nehru in New Delhi but nothing has been heard so far.

The British announced they would co-sponsor the U. S. resolution. Other countries are expected to be tomorrow as sponsors by 2 p. m. (CST) tomorrow when Acheson begins his speech.

Move's Three Steps
The resolution would have the Assembly:

1. Note with approval the efforts of the U. N. negotiators to achieve a just and honorable armistice.

2. Note with approval the principles followed by the U. N. Command against forced repatriation of prisoners.

3. Call on the central people's government of the People's Republic of China and upon the North Korean authorities "to avert further bloodshed by having their negotiators agree to an armistice which recognizes the rights of all prisoners of war to an unrestricted opportunity to be repatriated and avoid the use of force in their repatriation."

4. Request the president of the U. N. Assembly Lester B. Pearson, Canada foreign secretary, to transmit the resolution to the Communists and to make a report to the Assembly as soon as he deems appropriate during the present session of the Assembly on the result of his action.

Senate Didn't Act
Grunewald has figured several times in sensational investigations on Capitol Hill. In 1950 he refused to answer some questions by a Senate committee which was digging into alleged wire-tapping in Washington. The committee recommended that the Senate cite him for contempt, but the Senate never acted on the recommendation.

Allies Clear Iron Horse Of Chinese

SEOUL, Friday, Oct. 24 (AP)—Allied troops threw the Chinese Reds off the top of Iron Horse Mountain Thursday and 20 miles to the east crushed new but weaker attacks on Triangle Hill and Sniper Ridge.

The battle for these strategic Central Korean heights waxed hottest at Iron Horse. Front reports said the Chinese refused to concede its loss and were beating against South Korean lines with furious counterblows.

As ground fighting dropped in intensity, the Allies stepped up their aerial attacks and carried them close to the Manchurian border.

Fighter-bombers chopped up rail lines 40 miles from the border, and destroyed or damaged 15 buildings in a raid on a transformer and mining area near the Chongchon River north of Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

Superforts Follow-Up
They were following up 10 Superforts which by night drove through Communist anti-aircraft barrages and interceptors and dumped 100 tons of bombs on a lead and zinc plant at Okung. This is only 25 miles east of the Red jet base at Antung, Manchuria. All B29s returned.

U. S. Sabrejets again were aloft and tangled with MIG jets that tried to intercept the fighter-bombers. The Fifth Air Force said one MIG was shot down and another probably crashed in Manchuria.

Light bombers raided two massing areas northwest of Pyongyang. Marine fighter-bombers blasted a troop concentration near Sariwon on the West Coast.

The South Korean Ninth Division's conquest of the top of Iron Horse Mountain climaxed a week of close quarter fighting with bayonets and hand grenades.

Seventh Holds Ground
Eastward, elements of a Chinese Communist battalion, possibly 500 men, attacked Triangle Hill, which the U. S. Seventh Division seized last week. AP Correspondent John Randolph reported the U. S. troops repulsed the Red attack in a two-hour fight.

On nearby Sniper Ridge, the South Korean Second Division threw back an attack by possibly 150 Chinese Communists.

Chinese and Allied batteries traded heavy artillery fire during the two battles.

1,500 Miners Vote To Cancel 7-Day Walkout

HARRISBURG, Ill., Oct. 23 (AP)—Fifteen hundred Progressive Mine Workers voted today in a mass meeting to end their week long strike immediately.

They had not reported for work protesting the government's cut-back on the United Mine Workers' wage contract from $1.90 to $1.50 a day. Eight Saline County coal operations were affected. PMW elsewhere stayed on jobs.

The Wage Stabilization Board was to act next Tuesday on the PMWA contract, which was patterned after the rival UMWA pact. John Marchiano, PMWA secretary-treasurer, told the massed miners:

"A six months strike in the coal industry would see a lot more crosses on the pitheads. He meant more mines would close."

"Natural gas will swamp you." He meant homes and plants would change from coal to gas for heating.

"Another strike will bust your industry right open and you will be going down the road looking for a new job."

George Baima, PMWA president, told miners, "We still have a contract although the wage increase is subject to WSB approval."

Baima said the WSB would take up the PMWA case at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday.

McCloskey To Speak At Democratic Rally

McCloskey will discuss both national issues and the qualifications of the local candidates.

Following the meeting and entertainment, refreshments are to be served.

The meeting scheduled for Monday night, Oct. 27, at Stokley School has been cancelled due to the fact the school was recently sold and is not obtainable for the Democratic meeting.

Mary Hurlbut Day Is Observed Thursday

The Federated Congregational Presbyterian Guild observed Mary Hurlbut Day Thursday, Oct. 16, with a luncheon and meeting at the church. This annual event was held to honor Miss Mary Hurlbut, a member of the congregation who is a missionary in Africa for the American Board.

Honored guests were W. E. Hurlbut, father of Miss Hurlbut, W. E. Hurlbut Jr., her brother, and Mrs. Hurlbut.

The program was in charge of Mrs. L. G. Berry, missionary chairman.

Mrs. Robert Seelen sang two numbers, "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes" and "I'll Never Walk Alone." She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Mabel DeWitt.

Mrs. Lon Leslie gave the devotional program and Dr. R. C. Williamson the prayer.

Mrs. D. S. Lamm read a letter from Miss Hurlbut which told of her latest experiences in Africa.

Dr. M. Earle Collins, president of Missouri Valley College, was the guest speaker. Dr. Collins served as a missionary teacher in Egypt for four years and said that he had just come to visit about missionary work.

Dr. Collins said that he knew Dr. Hurlbut must be very proud and that it must give him a great deal of satisfaction to have a daughter as a missionary.

A missionary, too, receives a feeling of satisfaction from his work, the speaker said, because the people who are taught have such a deep appreciation. Students, he said, often come to the teacher after class and thank him for teaching them.

Dr. Collins stated that in his opinion the missionary effort was the only hope we have to save the world from Communism. Few people in America realize the many things for which we have to be thankful.

There were many guests present from other Sedalia churches.

Churches of the community are invited to participate.

Music Club Names Hymn of the Month

In cooperation with the National Federation of Music Clubs the Helen G. Steele Music Club of Sedalia announces the hymn of the month which will be sung in music groups and churches during this month. The hymn is "Oh, Where Are Kings and Empires Now" which was written by A. Cleveland Cox.

Mr. Cox was born at Mendon, N. J., May 10, 1881. He was a brilliant man, a fluent speaker and wrote many fine poems. At a very early age he and his father had a bitter controversy and he left his home and church where his father was bishop of the Presbyterian Church and joined the Protestant Episcopal Church.

He even went so far as to change the spelling of his name from Cox to Coxie. In 1865 he was consecrated bishop of Western New York.

While he did lots of writing and hymn composition he would not allow them to be printed in his own church hymnal until 1892, although they were used in other churches.

He lived in Buffalo until the time of his death but died July 20, 1896 in Clifton Springs, N. Y.

The hymn, "Oh, Where Are Kings and Empires Now" was set to the music of St. Ann by William G. Croft.

Mrs. T. E. Gasperson is the music club's hymn of the month chairman.

Music Club Names Hymn of the Month

In cooperation with the National Federation of Music Clubs the Helen G. Steele Music Club of Sedalia announces the hymn of the month which will be sung in music groups and churches during this month. The hymn is "Oh, Where Are Kings and Empires Now" which was written by A. Cleveland Cox.

Mr. Cox was born at Mendon, N. J., May 10, 1881. He was a brilliant man, a fluent speaker and wrote many fine poems. At a very early age he and his father had a bitter controversy and he left his home and church where his father was bishop of the Presbyterian Church and joined the Protestant Episcopal Church.

He even went so far as to change the spelling of his name from Cox to Coxie. In 1865 he was consecrated bishop of Western New York.

While he did lots of writing and hymn composition he would not allow them to be printed in his own church hymnal until 1892, although they were used in other churches.

He lived in Buffalo until the time of his death but died July 20, 1896 in Clifton Springs, N. Y.

Unemployment Insurance Plan Offered Now to Korean Vets

Attention Korean veterans and all other veterans who served in the armed forces for 90 days or more and have some service on or after June 27, 1950 (the day South Korea was invaded), and who have been discharged for reasons other than dishonorable! Unemployment insurance is now available to you under a brand new payment plan made possible by the Veterans Readjustment Act signed by President Truman last July 16. The law became effective Oct. 16.

The state and federal governments have joined forces to provide you with an unemployment assistance program conducted solely through the existing state agency, the Missouri Division of Employment Security. This is the only type of benefit that will be handled through a state agency. All the other benefits will be administered exclusively by the Veterans Administration. But this particular source of assistance is nonetheless important to you. Here is what has happened:

The old "52-20 Club" has had its share of publicity. Veterans of World War II are familiar with it. Under the old unemployment insurance program, the federal government paid unemployed veterans $20 a week for 52 weeks, a total of $1,040. The catch was that, although paid out through the state agencies, the money was in no way governed by state law.

That meant that veterans and non-veterans, working side by side at the same job, would receive different treatment and receive unlike benefits should they both lose their jobs and apply for unemployment insurance.

At the urging of the state agencies, the federal government has corrected this discrepancy and provided a new unemployment insurance plan which will be handled through state agencies and be subject to state benefit laws, even though federal funds are involved.

Under the new plan, a veteran is guaranteed payment of a maximum of $676 at the rate of $26 a week for 26 weeks. There are two ways that this total amount can be paid to him.

If the veteran is already eligible for state unemployment insurance, he will receive that state benefit first and the federal funds will be used to supplement it so that it totals $26 for the week. Or, if the veteran is not eligible for any state benefits, then the federal government will foot the whole bill.

For instance, if a veteran applies to his local office of the Division of Employment Security and it is discovered that he is eligible for unemployment insurance only under the Veterans Act and is not eligible for any state benefits, he will be paid his weekly $26 entirely out of federal funds.

If, however, it is discovered that he is eligible to unemployment insurance payments from the state as well as under the Veterans Act, he will be paid the state benefit first and the federal government will make up the difference to $26 for the week.

Thus, if he were paid $16 by the state, another $10 would be added to his check to bring his total for the week to $26. That extra $10 would be charged to the government. And remember, the money both from the state and the federal government would be paid to him through the local office of the state agency.

Partial benefits are also payable to veterans employed for less than full time work.

What are the requirements for eligibility for payment of unemployment insurance under the Veterans Act?

First of all, a veteran is not entitled to such federal payment while he is still drawing mustering out pay. If he draws $100 in mustering out pay, he is entitled to unemployment benefits until the 31st day after his discharge or separation from the service, until the 61st day after discharge or separation if he draws $200; and until the 91st day if he draws $300.

A veteran may, however, apply for STATE unemployment insurance while still drawing mustering out pay.

Schwabe Hits 'Corruption, High Taxes'

The Green Ridge auditorium was the scene of an enthusiastic Republican community meeting Wednesday night when Max Schwabe, Republican candidate for Congress, addressed a capacity audience on the issues of "corruption in government" and the "high taxes which absorb 31 per cent of our annual income for the national government's agencies and bureaus."

Mr. Schwabe has served three previous terms in Congress and his chief interest in being elected in 1952 is that he wishes to dedicate his efforts to work for a future America that will be both free and solvent, he declares.

John M. Palmer, Republican committeeman of Green Ridge township No. 1, opened the meeting and presented Carl G. Schrader, Republican county chairman, who introduced the Pettis County candidates, Harvey D. Dow, for the legislature; for public administrator, Charles Maggard; for sheriff, Archie Smith; for prosecuting attorney, Mike Bogutski; for county assessor, Clyde Safford; and presiding judge of the county court, J. V. Kesterson presented Judge Edward Callis, who is seeking reelection as judge for the western district.

Mr. Schrader then presented Schwabe who spoke on the theme "What I See on the Horizon." He said that "all we have to do to increase our phony prosperity is to extend the Korean war a little farther. That the present Korean war was inevitable after the sell-out of the peace at Yalta, when Russia was given the green light on taking 10 to 12 European countries, islands in the Pacific and eventually swallowing up China."

The Green Ridge band, under the direction of Mrs. Faye Berthel, played a musical program before the meeting was called to order. With Judy Kay Ray doing a solo dance and song number, and a trio of baton twirlers bringing loud applause from the assembled guests. Handling the batons were: Virginia Landis, Marty Wimer and Patty Robinson.

Refreshments were served by the Green Ridge PTA, of which Russell H. Miller is president, in the newly renovated school lunch room. Arrangements for the meeting were made by John M. Palmer, Republican committeeman, and Mrs. Nina E. Gordon, Republican committeewoman.

CAIRO, Oct. 23 (AP)—Egypt's strong-man Premier promised wildly cheering crowds today this nation will become a great power in the world and pledged himself to "complete independence of the Nile Valley."

The address by Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, who toppled King Farouk from the throne, appeared to be a clear announcement of Egypt's determination to drive Britain not only out of the Suez Canal but out of the Sudan as well. The Sudan, on the upper Nile, has been ruled jointly by Britain and Egypt more than half a century.

At the same time the address underscored the growing awareness of Egyptians of their strategic position, which could make the country the dominant force of the Moslem world and thus a potent power in world affairs.

Naguib spoke in a celebration marking "90 days of freedom" since July 23, when the Army staged the coup which overthrew Farouk. About 50,000 enthusiastic spectators crowded the huge Ismail Square, now renamed Liberation Square, for the Premier's appearance.

Millions of others lined Cairo's streets and swarmed about loudspeakers at the crossroads to follow the celebration.

Kikuyu Chief Slain Trying To Break-Up Anti-White Meeting
NAIROBI, Kenya, Oct. 23 (AP)—The slaughter of a senior Kikuyu chief, tried to break up a secret ceremony of anti-white Mau Mau terrorists sparked a gigantic manhunt in the Nyeri district of this British crown colony today.

Chief Nderi, 70, was hacked to death last night by the knives of frenzied tribesmen. One policeman of his three-man bodyguard was butchered with him and the other two are missing.

Twenty-one persons, mainly old men and women, were rounded up swiftly by British troops and police who launched only Tuesday a colony-wide campaign to crush the Mau Mau. Others were hunted.

Nderi's position in the Kikuyu tribe, which totals a million of Kenya's 5 1/2-million population, was similar to that of Chief Waruhiu, who was shot to death on a highway last week. Nderi controlled the northern part of the tribal reserve at Waruhiu the southern.

66 Runs By Sedalia Firemen In Only 23 Days of October

Sedalia's fire ladders have had a busy month, 90-per cent due to the extreme dry weather resulting in grass, weed and trash fires. Up until 2:59 p. m. Thursday 66 runs had been made by the fire companies, an average of slightly less than three alarms each day.

On Sept. 30, the last fire alarm was 241 and the total runs for the year up until Thursday afternoon was 307.

Checking the fire department to see what month was the largest would entail considerable work in going back on the years, but Fire Department officials believe this is the largest number of runs ever to be made by the fire companies in 23 days, and possibly the largest number ever to be made in any one month.

A big help in getting word to the fire companies quickly has been the Police Department's 2-way radio system. The West Sedalia truck is equipped with radio and numerous times this month has received calls of other fires while enroute to another blaze.

An example of how quickly fire alarms can be received by the fire companies is the series of runs made at noon Thursday. The first alarm was received at 12:16 p. m. to 1835 West Third; while at the same time another alarm was received at 12:23 to 2500 East Seventh; and while enroute to this fire a third call was received at 12:28 to 330 North Grand. No sooner had the fire companies returned to their stations until the fourth alarm was received at 1:05 p. m. and Montgomery at 1:05 p. m. They then received a "long" rest (until 2:59 p. m.) when a blaze broke-out at 17th and Hancock.

All five were grass fires starting from burning trash or weeds. Slight damage resulted at the fire on North Grand when some fencing caught fire.

Jury Returns Guilty Verdict In Grammer Case

BALTIMORE, Oct. 23 (AP)—George Edward Grammer, 35-year-old father of three children, was convicted today of deliberately killing his wife and trying to make her death look like an accident—so he could marry a pretty New York secretary.

The first degree murder verdict carries either a death penalty—hanging in Maryland—or a life prison term. Sentence was not pronounced immediately.

Grammer heard Judge Herman M. Moser deliver the verdict without the bat of an eye. His face was expressionless. He still wore the grim, gray look he maintained throughout the nine-day trial.

"This court has no difficulty in determining that Mrs. Grammer's death was criminal homicide," the judge said. "It has no difficulty in determining that the defendant was responsible for and did commit that unlawful act."

The woman the judge referred to was Mathilda Miziborok, 28, a Canadian who worked at the United Nations headquarters in New York.

She testified that she and Grammer had fallen in love after their first meeting last November and were planning to marry. She said she learned he had a wife only after Dorothy May Grammer's death.

Naval Plane Enters Hurricane; Discovers 'Most Violent' Rain

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 23 (AP)—The men who flew a Navy plane into the Caribbean hurricane today said it contained the most violent rainfall they had ever encountered.

Winds of 115 miles per hour were registered, but it was the terrific rain and a huge flock of birds caught in the eye that made the trip hazardous.

"The rainfall was so violent we couldn't see the eye of the storm at all on radar until we got inside it," said Lt. Wilfred Moehle of Chicago, the plane's aerologist.

"Once we got into the eye, which was about 16 miles in diameter, we saw hundreds of birds, most of them white seagulls. It was an operational hazard and I know the plane hit at least four of them."

Lt. Moehle said the four-engine Privateer plane out of the Jacksonville, Fla., Naval Air Station was tossed about like a leaf in the hurricane. All 12 men aboard were bumped and bruised, but nobody was injured.

"To give you an idea of how violent it was," he continued, "the rain washed all the paint off the leading edges of the plane's wings and tail."

Alabama used about 10 million tons of coal in 1951.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

British news sources appear to have been at some pains to get across the idea that the current Mau Mau terrorism in Kenya is not a Communist movement.

If that is true Britain is facing not one but two dangerous forces in the colony.

It is much more likely that the Communist and terroristic campaigns are interlocking. Certainly the Communists, both native and European, have been steadily at work.

Mau Mau is not a new thing, although the Kenya government has been slow to publicize its activities because, while trying to encourage foreign investment since the war, it did not want a picture of unstable conditions spread abroad. This also led to timidity about repressive measures until a serious crisis was precipitated.

Mau Mau originates in ancient tribal customs in the important Kikuyu tribe. Communists began their activities during the war. Tribal practices for punishment and revenge were turned against the White population of 30,000, mostly British and spread thinly over 225,000 square miles.

Britons, penetrating Kenya 50 years ago, introduced modern agricultural methods into the growing of corn, cotton, sugar, coffee, tea and the like, and encouraged the tribes to do the same.

The Whites pre-empted the best land. All of it was troublesome, anyway, much being in mountainous regions and all subjected to being regularly washed out to sea by torrential seasonal rains. Terracing is a never-ending problem in Kenya, and the native men had always been accustomed to let women do the work.

After the war, the Communists went among the natives asking them why they worked so hard on their lands. "Let them wash away. Then take the lands of the Whites." The Whites are the bourgeoisie of Kenya. It was the old Communist line. It fell on ears attuned by incomplete adaptation to new times, and took seed in ground plowed by some considerable British mistakes in colonial practice.

Oddly enough, Britain herself, trying to correct some of these very mistakes, trying at last to let the colony toward self-government, has inadvertently provided most of the native Communist leadership.

She adopted a regular system of British education to develop native leaders, taking them to England for training in her own universities. But they were met at the docks with open arms by Britain's Communists who immediately undertook to steer them into subversive channels. They were never allowed, by their British university associates, to forget their origins. They were enticed to Russian and European training centers for Communists, and they have gone home carrying the banner of Stalin-Leninism.

Now Britain is required to bring armed force into a crisis. The use of white troops, even if only to relieve native troops and police for the suppressive campaign, may merely emphasize the rift between blacks and whites. And another score breaks out on an already scabrous world.

Police Seek 4 Armed Men In Tennessee

SPARTA, Tenn., Oct. 23 (AP)—Police fanned out tonight from this middle Tennessee town in search for four armed bandits who kidnapped at least 14 terrorized victims during the past two days and escaped in one of three stolen automobiles.

The search shifted late today toward Lebanon, 50 miles northwest of here, after a brazen daylight theft of an automobile from the public square. Police said a group of men stole the automobile from its parking place, but it was abandoned a short distance away.

Although the search centered in the Cumberland Mountain plateau area around here, it extended also to Georgia and Kentucky. All the persons kidnapped at various points along U. S. Highway 41 were released or escaped.

The victims, including a recently married couple from Maine, were robbed, threatened and three of the victims had their automobiles taken from them.

The kidnapping and robbing spree broke out north of Chattanooga yesterday, when 10 persons were victimized, then released or escaped.

But in Valdosta, Ga., Sheriff J. L. Futch said he believes the bandits are the same group which kidnapped, robbed and tied up four tourists from Hastings, Mich., and Toronto, Canada, Tuesday night.

Cumberland County Sheriff Charles Johnson said here that a first kidnapping in the Tennessee series was that of James M. Barton, 35, whose car was stalled.

Barton was robbed of $210 in cash and forced to accompany the four men to Jasper, a few miles north. Barton, who escaped later, said the bandits found occupants of two automobiles asleep at a roadside park at Jasper.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cookson, Houston, Me., who were robbed of $40 and some jewelry, and three youths from Hagerstown, Ind., asleep in the other automobile. The youngsters, identified as David Renna, 20, Harold Hilbert, 20, and Don Walker, 15, were robbed of $300.

The bandits split up at Jasper, Barton told officers, taking the automobile of the Indiana youngsters.

Barton said as the bandits drove away in separate automobiles one of them yelled, "See you in Nashville tonight, Joe."

Death Toll Reaches 443 In Philippines

According to a late Associated Press dispatch, the death toll in the Central Philippines typhoon had risen to 443 dead and 209 injured. The toll is expected to climb even higher when communications are restored.

MANILA, Friday, Oct. 24 —At least 370 persons were killed and hundreds were injured or missing in a typhoon of almost unheard of violence that tore through the Central Philippines Tuesday and Wednesday.

The great storm — whose winds of unknown velocity whipped tree trunks through the air like matchsticks — destroyed at least two cities with a combined population of more than 113,000 on Southeast Luzon.

The storm today was bearing down on the eastern shores of Indochina, which still had not recovered from a typhoon and tidal waves that killed hundreds earlier this week.

Government agencies and the Philippines Red Cross sped relief to the stricken area of splintered homes and buildings, flattened crops and flooded towns and villages.

The Red Cross made the preliminary tabulation of 370 killed, 2,000 missing, and hundreds injured.

Hardest hit were the once thriving port of Legaspi, a city of 30,000 population 210 miles southeast of Manila, and Tabaco, a center of 33,000 population 20 miles north of Legaspi.

Farm Experiments Value Outlined For Kiwanis Club

The establishment and development of agricultural experiment stations and farm extension services was the theme of a talk by the National Extension Agent Roy I. Coplen before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club meeting at Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

He told how the farm programs were controlled and directed to the local level; the valuable information brought to farmers from state and federal experimental stations to the end that scientific farming has brought increased agricultural production.

Mr. Coplen pointed to the importance of urban people recognizing the value of farm development as contrasted with industrial development. For instance if, in only one category, 50,000 acres of corn land can be improved to produce only 20 more bushels to the acre the return would increase up to a million and a quarter dollars.

The speaker was introduced by Program Chairman Arthur Morgan.

Guests were: Harold Gunn, with Dan Drew, and Royal Miller,
